Abbott on the Gospels and Acts.

THE GOSPELS OF ST. MATTHEW AND ST. MARK: with an Introduction on the Nature, Origin and Authority, Inspiration and Canon of the New Testament; also on the Relation of the Gospels to each other, on the Harmony of the Gospels, and on the Life of Christ. By Rev. Lyman Abbott, Author of "A Dictionary of Religious Knowledge," "Jesus of Nazareth," &c., &c. Fifty-two Illustrations and Three Maps, 400 closely-printed pages. Square 8vo. 3s. 6d. (9s.) [6]

* Also, by the same Author, a similar volume on Luke, 3s. (7s. 6d.)—and on Acts, 3s. (7s. 6d.) [each 6]

"We opened this volume with a strong doubt whether there was a place for another commentary; all classes of readers have been supplied, so we thought, and little is left but repetition and commonplace. We soon found, however, that the doubt was groundless. Mr. Abbott has made it clear that there is room for another commentary, and his volumes are fitted to occupy the room. He has thoroughly mastered his subject; has carefully thought out for himself the great problems which need to be considered by the competent commentator, and has given the results in clear and suggestive forms. We are specially struck with the aptness of the summaries of sections and with the valuable supplementary notes on the temptation of Jesus, the sermon on the mount, demoniacal possessions, &c."—The Freeman.

Aitken on Church Reform.

PAMPHLETS ON CHURCH REFORM. By Rev. Robert Aitken, Vicar of Pendeen. Now first collected into one volume. With Prefatory Note by his Son, Rev. W. HAY M. H. AITKEN, M.A. An aggregate of 538 pp. 8vo. 2s. net (published in separate numbers at 5s. 4d.) [6]

"This book consists of eleven pamphlets and a letter by the author on Church Reform, written to the Right Hon. W. E. Gladstone. The subjects which are treated are 'The Irish Church,' 'Union of the Church with Methodism,' 'The Sealed Book,' 'The Root and Solution of our Difficulties,' 'Evangelical Truth,' &c. These pamphlets are all written with that earnestness for which the author was noted, and of course set forth the peculiar views which are associated with his name."—The Literary Churchman.

Alford's Essays and Addresses.

ESSAYS AND ADDRESSES, chiefly on Church Subjects. By Henry Alford, D.D., Dean of Canterbury. 8vo. 2s. (7s. 6d.) [5]

CONTENTS: The Special Education of the Clergy—Preaching: its Adaptation to the Present Times—The Christian Conscience—The Union of Christendom considered in its Home Aspect—Charity the End of the Commandment—The Requisites of an Education for the Ministry in the Present Day—The Church of the Future.

Fuller and more recent Catalogues of Theological Books, Secondhand and New, are always obtainable Gratis and Post Free. Libraries, in town or country, and small Parcels of Books, bought for Cash, or taken in Exchange, on the most liberal terms.

Allen's Sermons.

THE WORDS OF CHRIST, and Twenty-two other Sermons, Preached at Christ Church, Gypsy Hill, Sydenham, London. By Rev. R. Allen, M.A., Vicar, Crown 8vo. 2s. (5s.) [5]

"These are sermons of the right stamp. They combine original thought, a clear, earnest, eloquent style, and genuine Evangelical doctrine."—Our Own Fireside.

"They are full of vigour and earnestness, and combine purity of doctrine with freedom and independence of thought."—The Christian Advocate.

Arnold's Our Bishops and Deans.

OUR BISHOPS AND DEANS. By Rev. F. Arnold, B.A., late of Christ Church, Oxford. 2 vols. 8vo. 7s 6d. (30s.) [9]

"This work is good in conception and cleverly executed, and as thoroughly honest and earnest as it is interesting and able. The style is original, the thought vigorous, the information wide and thorough, the portrait-painting artistic, and the comments keen enough to gratify and impress any student or thinker, whether or no he be inclined to endorse all the opinions of the author. There is not a chapter that any intelligent reader is likely to leave unfinished or to find uninteresting. Moreover, there is with the scholarly ability so sincere an earnestness, and so much devotional feeling of a refined and simple sort, tender and true, that we believe no one will be able to go through the volumes without being conscious of having received a new impression of good, and without having learned a regard for the writer."—John Bull.

Atwell on Inspiration.

THE PAULINE THEORY OF THE INSPIRATION OF HOLY SCRIPTURE; an inquiry into the present unsettled state of opinion concerning the Nature of Personal Inspiration, with the view of placing on a consistent and Scriptural basis the Inspiration of Holy Scripture. By W. E. Atwell, D.D., Rector of Clonoe. Crown 8vo. 1s. 6d. (7s. 6d.) [6]

Baird on the Huguenots.

HISTORY OF THE RISE OF THE HUGUENOTS. By Henry M. Baird, Professor in the University of the City of New York. 2 vols. post 8vo. containing in the aggregate 1,304 pages, including a 42-page Index. 7s. 6d. (15s.) [9]

"Professor Baird has added a new name to that list of gifted American historians which is already adorned by the names of Motley, Prescott, Bold and Bancroft. The story is told so picturesquely, that the reader will find it difficult to lay down the book."—The Ecclesiastical Gazette.

"We may congratulate Professor Baird on the success with which he has handled the story of the Huguenots. His volumes may justly be considered as a standard work."—The Record.

Baker on the Apostles' Creed.

THE APOSTLES' CREED TESTED BY EXPERIENCE: Lectures delivered in the Church of the Messiah, Brooklyn, U.S.A. By Rev. Charles R. Baker. Post 8vo. 2s. (2s. 6d.) [3]

"The most striking feature in the present volume is the adoption of a novel mode of dealing with the Creed and its lessons."—The New York Times.

Baker on the Psalms.

MEDITATIONS AND DISQUISITIONS ON THE FIRST PSALM; ON THE PENITENTIAL PSALMS (vi., xxxii., xxxviii., li., cii., cxxx., cxlii.); and on the CONSOLATORY PSALMS (xxiii., xxvii., xxx., xxxiv., lxxxiv., ciii., cxiii., cxvi.). By Sir Richard Baker, Knight, Author of "The Chronicle of England," &c., &c. A verbatim reprint of these three very rare Treatises in Modern Spelling. With Memorial Introduction by Rev. A. B. GROSART, LL.D., F.S.A., Editor of the Works, and Biographer, of Sibbes, Brooks, and Gilpin, in "Nichol's Puritan Divines." Facsimile of contemporary Portrait and of Autograph. Thick crown 8vo. 5s. (6s. 6d.) [6]

"We have long known the comments of Sir Richard Baker, and we have often wondered how they escaped reprinting. . . . He turns a text over and over, and sets it in new lights, and makes it sparkle and flash in the sunlight after a manner little known among the blind critics of the midnight school. Deep experience, remarkable shrewdness, and great spirituality are combined in Sir Richard. It is hard to quote from him, for he is always good alike, and yet he has more memorable sentences than almost any other writer."—The Sword and Trowel.

"This is a reprint—and what is more, an honest reprint—of a book published in 1639–40 by a layman of the Puritan way of thinking, though not an unmitigated Puritan by any means, as he wrote a Defence and Vindication of the Theatre against Prynne's 'Histrio Mastix.' His 'meditations' are sober, sensible, and practical enough; their interest is augmented by the fact that they were wholly or mostly written while their author was a prisoner in the Fleet. They are quaint, and full of those apophthegms and fancies with which we meet so constantly in books written in the reign of James I. To the antiquarian, as distinct from the theological reader, the most interesting part of the volume will be the biographical sketch of the author's career, to which the writer, Dr. Grosart, has given the name of a 'Memorial-Introduction.' . . . The account of the family of Sir Richard Baker, and his long and reputable connection with Kent, will have its attractions for the genealogical reader."—The Antiquarian Magazine.

Ball on the XXXIX. Articles.

THE ORTHODOX DOCTRINE OF THE CHURCH OF ENGLAND explained in a Commentary on the XXXIX. Articles. By Rev. T. J. Ball. With an Introduction by Rev. W. J. E. BENNETT, M.A., Vicar of Froome Selwood. Crown 8vo. 2s. 6d. (7s. 6d.) [3]

"Mr Ball's 'Orthodox Doctrine' is, in many respects, a very serviceable handbook of the positive teaching contained in the Articles."—Church Bells.

"It is well intentioned, and has a Catholic tone from beginning to end."—The Church Quarterly Review.

"The main object of this book, we are told in the author's preface, is to 'help English Churchmen to understand what they ought to believe as Catholics, and why this very belief ought to prevent their submission to the claims of Rome.' An excellent object, and, on the whole, well carried out."—The American Church Review.

Barelay's The Talmud.

SELECTIONS FROM THE TALMUD: chiefly illustrating the Teaching of the Bible: with an Introduction. By Joseph Barelay, LL.D., Bishop of Jerusalem. Nine Illustrations and a plan of the Temple. Large 8vo. 8s. (14s.) John Murray. [6]

"The volume marks a considerable advance upon modern treatises on the Mishna and Gemara. It is one which will be resorted to for the light which it throws upon many passages of Holy Scripture, and reference to these is rendered the easier by the copious list of texts which are illustrated from the Talmud, and which conclude the volume." John Bull.

"The treatises here selected out of a vast number, which are still extant in massive folios that form a very library in themselves, are chosen because they throw considerable light on dark and doubtful passages, alike in the Old Testament and New Testament history; and in this respect we can scarcely over-rate their extreme value and interest. Hitherto Christians have undervalued, and sadly undervalued, the Talmud, without which we can scarcely appreciate as we ought some of the most distinctive traits of the Jewish religion."—The English Churchman.

Baring-Gould on Religious Belief.

THE ORIGIN AND DEVELOPMENT OF RELIGIOUS BELIEF. Part I., Christianity; Part II., Polytheism and Monotheism. By Rev. S. Baring-Gould, M.A. 2 vols. crown 8vo. 6s. 6d. (12s.) [6]

"Mr. Baring-Gould has undertaken a great and ambitious work. And no one can deny that he possesses some eminent qualifications for this great work. He has a wealth of erudition of the most varied description, especially in those particular regions of mediæval legend and Teutonic mythology which are certain to make large contributions to the purpose he has in hand. It is a contribution to religious thought of very high value."—The Guardian.

Bate's Cyclopædia of Illustrations.

A CYCLOPÆDIA OF ILLUSTRATIONS of Moral and Religious Truths, consisting of Definitions, Metaphors, Similes, Emblems, Contrasts, Analogies, Statistics, Synonyms, Anecdotes, &c. By Rev. John Bate. NINTH EDITION, revised and greatly improved, with Indexes of Texts and Authors. 8vo. 6s. (7s. 6d.) [9]

"We have run over the pages of this Cyclopædia with amazement, so replete are they with authorities and information of the highest class. It is no hyperbole to say that such a production has never before been given to the public as the unaided effort of a single brain. It is the very handbook for clergymen, editors, tutors, academicians, and private students."—The Church Standard.

Bedell on Pastoral Theology.

THE PASTOR: Pastoral Theology. By Right Rev. G. T. Bedell, D.D., Professor of Pastoral Theology in the Theological Seminary of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Ohio. 608 pp. crown 8vo. 6s. (7s. 6d.) [6]

Beecher's Lectures on Preaching.

LECTURES ON PREACHING, delivered at Yale College, New Haven, Connecticut. By Henry Ward Beecher. Three Series complete in one vol. Crown 8vo. 960 pp. 4s. 9d. (6s.) [6]

Bennett on Ecclesiastes.

THE WISDOM OF THE KING; or, Studies in Ecclesiastes. By Rev. James Bennett, St. John, New Brunswick. Crown 8vo. 2s. 6d. (5s.) [6]

Bernard on Job.

THE BOOK OF JOB, as expounded to his Cambridge Pupils. By the late Hermann Hedwig Bernard, Ph.D., M.A., for seven-and-twenty years Hebrew Teacher in the University of Cambridge; Author of "Creed and Ethics of the Jews exhibited in selections from Maimonides"; Editor of "The Guide to the Hebrew Student"; and joint-Author (with Rev. P. H. Mason) of "An Easy Practical Hebrew Grammar." Edited, with a Translation and Additional Notes, by his friend and former pupil, FRANK CHANCE, B.A., M.B., late Tyrwhitt's University Hebrew Scholar, Trinity College, Cambridge (now a Member of the Old Testament Revising Company). First published, 1864, re-issued in 1884 with a large Appendix by the Editor, which then appeared for the first time. Portrait of DR. BERNARD, and facsimile of his MS. Very thick royal 8vo; an aggregate of 898 pages, 7s. 6d. net. [9]

"We are really glad to see a re-issue of this book. We wish there were more like it. Mr. Chance's appendix, 260 pages of notes on the Hebrew text and exegesis of Job, was printed in 1863, and would have been published in 1864 if Mr. Chance's health had not given way. And when he was ultimately able to return to it, and would have republished it with additions and corrections, the sheets were damaged by a fire. Mr. Higham has now issued the appendix as first printed, together with a reprint of Dr. Bernard's work. This we have before us. . . . The chief merit of the book is that it is really the work of a Hebrew Scholar who could write and think in Hebrew, not of a mere anatomist, who can vivisection the language without being able to use it. The blunders of some modern Hebrew scholars are here chastised as they deserve. We confess that we thoroughly sympathise with the Conservative writers when they catch the Rationalists blundering, as Mr. Chance and Dr. Bernard appear to have done. Colenso, Davidson, and 'that tiger Ewald' are not spared in the notes of this book. Gesenius' interpretation of ancient Hebrew by modern Arabic is also severely handled."—The Record.

Bernays' Discourses to Schoolboys.

Bersier's Sermons.

THE GOSPEL IN PARIS: Sermons. By Rev. Eugene Bersier, D.D., of l'Eglise de l'Etoile, Paris. With a personal sketch of the Author by Rev. FREDERICK HASTINGS, thick crown 8vo. 4s. 6d. (7s. 6d.) [3]

"As sermons they are of a very high order, while for outspoken rebuke of worldliness and social evils, such as abound in the gay French capital, as well as for thoughtful exposition of Bible truth, they are worthy of high praise."—"It is a treat to read his sermons."—The Belfast Witness. The Christian.

"These discourses unite rare elegance with high power of thought. They are remarkable for their clearness, and they also show how Dr. Bersier can sound the depths both of the mind and of the heart as few can. They pulsate with an impassioned earnestness which must have driven home their high truths and their pointed appeals. The devout will find here food for their minds, and what also will stir their hearts, which is more than can be said of some of the literature which is offered them."—The North British Mail.

Blencowe's Sermons.

PLAIN SERMONS addressed to a Country Congregation. By Rev. Edward Blencowe, Curate of Teversal, Nottinghamshire. FIRST SERIES, SIXTH EDITION, crown 8vo. 3s. 6d. (6s.) [3]

"There were amongst the sermons which were appealed to thirty years ago, some by Blencowe (I believe a country clergyman in Nottinghamshire). In these will be found a few sermons on 'Joseph,' 'Naaman,' 'Charity,' and the 'Broad and Narrow Way,' which leave little to be desired. I do not say that all in his volumes are equal in merit, but as a writer Blencowe combines most of the excellences which can be shown in a plain and earnest composition; and by the constant change of his style he avoids the heaviness which a sermon ill put together suggests."—The Guardian, January 4th, 1882; article, "Successful Preachers."

Blomfield's Sermons.

TWENTY-FOUR SERMONS on Christian Doctrine and Practice, and on the Church. By C. J. Blomfield, D.D., Bishop of London. 8vo. 2s. 6d. (10s. 6d.) [6]

Blunt on Christian History.

A CHRISTIAN VIEW OF CHRISTIAN HISTORY: from Apostolic to Mediæval Times. By Rev. John Henry Blunt, M.A., Editor of "The Dictionary of Historical Theology," "The Dictionary of Sects, Heresies, and Schools of Thought," "The Annotated Bible," "The Annotated Book of Common Prayer," &c. Post 8vo. 1s. 6d. (7s.) [3]

"We can very heartily commend these essays as both very interesting and instructive in their subject-matter and in their mode of treating it, and as a most important counteraction on the Christian and Catholic side to infidel or latitudinarian Ecclesiastical Historians."—John Bull.

Bonar on Genesis.

EARTH'S MORNING; or, Thoughts on Genesis. By Horatius Bonar, D.D., Author of "Light and Truth," "Hymns of Faith and Hope," &c. Crown 8vo. 2s. 6d. (5s.) [6]

"An exposition of the first six chapters only. The author endeavours 'to investigate the meaning of each verse and word: that, having done so, the exact revelation of God in these may be brought out, and the spiritual truth evolved.' He has, in a great measure, attained his object. What more could be said in his praise?"—Rev. C. H. SPURGEON.

Brock's Minor New Testament Characters.

MINOR CHARACTERS OF THE NEW TESTAMENT. By William Brock, Minister of Heath Street Chapel, Hampstead. Crown 8vo. 2s. (3s. 6d.) [3]

Dr. C. J. Brown's Sermons.

THE WORD OF LIFE; being Selections from the Work of a Ministry: Twenty-three Sermons. By Charles J. Brown, D.D., Edinburgh. Post 8vo. 2s. 3d. (6s.) [6]

"The depth of the preacher's own feeling and conviction can be measured by the earnestness with which he speaks to others. No really religious person could take up this volume of sermons without finding in it much to quicken and nourish the spiritual life."—The Nonconformist.

"It is uncommonly rich in terse, striking, evangelical teaching. The volume is a very handsome one and as fit a memorial of an honoured ministry as can be wished."—The Freeman.

Seven Works by Dr. John Brown.

DISCOURSES AND SAYINGS OF OUR LORD JESUS CHRIST, illustrated in a series of Expositions. By John Brown, D.D. 2 vols. 8vo. 14s. (21s.) [9]

"We know not the book which we could place beside these volumes, whether as a study and a model for the young minister, a library companion for the pastor, or a household instructor for the people of God."—Evangelical Christendom.

"Here we have sacred hermeneutics developed and applied in a manner most satisfactory. No difficulty of any importance is evaded, and some portion of light is thrown upon all. Where several conflicting opinions of the learned are detailed, his discrimination is admirable; where his own interpretation is given, it is set forth with so much clearness, and appears so reasonable, that the reader will seldom feel disposed to withhold his assent. As an able expositor—clear, candid, comprehensive—Dr. Brown is unrivalled among British divines."—JOHN KITTO, D.D.

EXPOSITORY DISCOURSES ON THE FIRST EPISTLE OF THE APOSTLE PETER. By John Brown, D.D. THIRD EDITION. 3 vols. crown 8vo. 9s. 6d. (18s.) [9]

"In the volumes before us, we have the first important accession which has been made for many years to the stock of commentary, in the strict and proper sense. It is neither Scottish nor German, but sprung from the high and rare union of the best qualities of both schools in a single mind. It has the Scottish precision, orthodoxy, practicality; the German learning, minuteness of investigation, and disregard of tradition; and for certain qualities too rare in both—resolute adherence to the very truth of the passage, unforced development of the connection and basing of edification on the right meaning of Scripture—we have not met with anything in either country which surpasses it."—The North British Review.

"A rich contribution to our theological literature."—The British Quarterly Review.

AN EXPOSITION OF THE EPISTLE OF THE APOSTLE PAUL TO THE HEBREWS. By John Brown, D.D. 2 vols. 8vo. 8s. 6d. (18s.) [9]

"Dr. David Smith says of this work, 'There is not a single instance of carelessness in investigating the true meaning of a text, or of timidity in stating the conclusion at which the author had arrived.' What more could be said in praise of any exposition?"—Rev. C. H. SPURGEON.

ANALYTICAL EXPOSITION OF THE EPISTLE OF ST. PAUL THE APOSTLE TO THE ROMANS. By John Brown, D.D. Thick 8vo. 7s. 6d. (14s.) [6]

"Dr. Brown's work must be placed among the first of the first-class. He is a great expositor."—Rev. C. H. SPURGEON.

THE RESURRECTION OF LIFE: an Exposition of First Corinthians XV., with a Discourse on Our Lord's Resurrection. By John Brown, D.D. Crown 8vo. 3s. 6d. (6s.) [6]

"We always think of Brown as a Puritan born out of due time. Everything he has left us is massive gold. He is both rich and clear, profound and perspicuous."—Rev. C. H. SPURGEON.

Three Books by Dr. Horace Bushnell.

GOD IN CHRIST: three Discourses delivered at New Haven, Cambridge, and Andover, with a preliminary Dissertation on Language. By Horace Bushnell, D.D. 356 pp. Crown 8vo. 3s. 6d. (4s. 6d.) [6]

CONTENTS: Language as related to Thought and Spirit—The Divinity of Christ—The Atonement—Dogma and Spirit: or, the True Reviving of Religion.

This volume was among the first of Dr. Bushnell's published works. His own opinion of it is expressed in letters written less than five months before his death: "It is the set-off, so to speak, of all that I have done, the manifesto; 'though green,' it gives 'my points of departure for all that comes after. I have been looking over it, and find it to contain a great deal of my best matter, as well as that which is the reason of all that comes after.'" Life and Letters of Horace Bushnell, pp. 552, 553.

SERMONS ON LIVING SUBJECTS. By Horace Bushnell, D.D. Crown 8vo. 3s. 6d. (4s. 6d.) [6]

"Of Dr. Bushnell it may be truly affirmed that he was one of the advanced thinkers of his age. In a very effective manner, and very usefully also, he discharged the functions of an interpreter, both by making known the true order of the universe, and explaining the laws by which it is moving onwards to its appointed ends. Not unfairly may he be described as Isaac Taylor and Thomas Carlyle combined; looking as he does, in their manner, with searching and courageous gaze, on the most momentous problems of existence, pressing looking unto all mysteries, and then discoursing, often with rarest eloquence, respecting them, in tones the genuineness of whose ring cannot be mistaken." The Contemporary Review.

PULPIT TALENT; Training for the Pulpit Manward; Building Eras in Religion; and Literary Varieties. By Horace Bushnell, D.D. Crown 8vo. 2s. 9d. (3s. 6d.) [5]

Burns' Sermon Outlines.

TWO HUNDRED SKETCHES AND OUTLINES OF SERMONS, preached chiefly in Church Street Chapel, Edgware Road, London, since 1866. By Jabez Burns, D.D., LL.D., Author of "Sketches and Skeletons of Sermons," "The Pulpit Cyclopædia," &c., &c., &c. Crown 8vo. 3s. (5s.) [6]

"The author of this work is widely known, not only in this country, but in the United States, as a writer possessing singular aptitude in homiletics. This volume, which forms the seventeenth, is as fresh and suggestive as if the author had written no other. The outlines are calculated to be peculiarly serviceable to the class of preachers for whom they are prepared; and many of them are original and suggestive in a remarkable degree."—The Christian Age.

Calthrop's Sermons to Children.

FLOWERS FROM THE GARDEN OF GOD, and other Addresses to Children. By Rev. Gordon Calthrop, M.A., Vicar of St. Augustine's, Highbury, London. SECOND EDITION, 12mo. 1s. 6d. (2s. 6d.) [3]

Chapin's Extemporaneous Discourses.

GOD'S REQUIREMENTS, and other Sermons. By E. H. Chapin, D.D., Pastor of the Church of the Divine Paternity, New York, U.S.A. Cr. 8vo. 2s. 6d. (3s.) [3]

THE CHURCH OF THE LIVING GOD, and other Sermons. By E. H. Chapin, D.D. Crown 8vo. 2s. 6d. (3s.) [3]

LESSONS OF FAITH AND LIFE: Discourses. By E. H. Chapin, D.D., Crown 8vo. 2s. 6d. (3s.) [3]

"We cannot make out what Dr. Chapin's precise ecclesiastical affinities may have been, or whether, like so many American divines, he is 'fighting for his own hand.' So far as we have been enabled to judge, it is a sort of 'unsectarian Christianity' that is put forward in these volumes, and presented with much power of thought and pictorial expression. They are orthodox, too, as far as that word applies where there is an intentional suppression of the larger part of the methods of the Christian religion. But the author is a keen observer of human life and human feeling, and his sermons are illuminated with little sun-sketches vignettes of life, which cannot but fascinate hearer or reader. He describes current tendencies of thought often with much beauty and truth."—The Literary Churchman.

Three Clerical Symposia. [?]

INSPIRATION: a Clerical Symposium on "In what sense, and within what limits, is the Bible the Word of God?" Crown 8vo. 4s. 6d. (6s.) [6]

CONTRIBUTORS: Revs. Prof. J. Radford Thomson, M.A.; Prebendary Stanley Leathes, D.D.; Principal John Cairns, D.D.; Alex. Mackennal, M.A.; J. Page Hopps; W. Crosby Barlow, M.A.; Prof. G. W. Olver, D.D.; Edward White; Prof. Israel Abrahams, M.A.; Bishop Weathers; Archdeacon Farrar, D.D.

THE ATONEMENT: a Clerical Symposium on "What is the Scripture Doctrine of the Atonement?" Crown 8vo. 4s. (6s.) [6]

CONTRIBUTORS: Revs. Richard F. Littledale, D.D.; Alex. Mackennal, M.A.; J. Page Hopps; Prof. G. W. Olver, D.D.; Archdeacon Farrar, D.D.; Principal Robert Rainy, D.D.; W. Crosby Barlow, M.A.; Prof. Alfred Cave; Edward White; Prof. C. Chapman, M.A.; Prof. Israel Abrahams, M.A.; Prof. J. Morris, D.D.; Bishop of Amycla; P. J. Gloag, D.D.

"We question if any volume has yet been published on the Atonement which sets forth the views of Christendom in so many various lights, and, at the same time, with so much mutual toleration and modesty."—The Newcastle Journal.

"We very cordially commend the book to the ministers and intelligent laymen of all denominations. The important subject of which it treats will more and more fully occupy a prominent position in the religious thought of our times."—The Aberdeen Free Press.

THE LORD'S SUPPER, its Design, and the Benefit it confers to the Individual and the Church: a Clerical Symposium. Crown 8vo. 2s. (5s.) [5]

CONTRIBUTORS: Revs. C. E. Luthardt, D.D.; E. de Pressensé, D.D.; R. F. Littledale, D.C.L.; J. Page Hopps; David Brown, D.D.; W. Smith, D.D.; W. Crosby Barlow, M.A.; M. F. Sadler, M.A.; J. A. Beet; T. Leach; P. J. Gloag, D.D.; G. W. Olver, B.A.

"A thoroughly representative list. Each gives with more or less brevity his own or his Church's conception of the great Sacrament of Christendom: each writes in perfect taste, in a tone of perfect moderation, and expresses his partial or utter contempt of the previous speaker's views with perfect courtesy. Apart from the merits of the various papers, the volume is a remarkable sign of the times, seeing that men of the most alien creeds can meet together in friendly reasoning over questions which have torn Churches and nations asunder, and made men, in the disputes as to the manner of holding communion with Christ, break up the union of Christendom. Dr. Smith, the Roman Catholic; Mr. Page Hopps, the Unitarian; Dr. Brown, a Free Church Presbyterian; Mr. Barlow, the Swedenborgian; Dr. De Pressensé, the Reformed Protestant; Dr. Luthardt the Lutheran; Dr. Littledale, the High Churchman: all here, amongst others, give their views with great moderation of statement, and with curiously contradictory results."

The Scotsman.

Christopherson's Sermons.

SERMONS. By Rev. Henry Christopherson, Assistant-Minister at Trinity Church, Brighton. SECOND SERIES, with an Introduction by JOHN RAE, LL.D. Post 8vo. 2s. 3d. (6s.) [5]

"These sermons are distinguished by a love of earnest practical piety, as well as by occasional eloquence. Their chief theme is the meaning and use of chastenings, a subject on which Christian conviction, when, as in this case, genuine, never fails to be impressive."—The Spectator.

Coleridge's Table Talk.

SELECTIONS FROM THE TABLE TALK of Samuel Taylor Coleridge. NEW EDITION. Fine Portrait. 12mo. 2s. 6d. (3s. 6d.) [3]

Cross' Sermons.

OLD WINE AND NEW: Occasional Discourses. By Rev. Joseph Cross, D.D. Crown 8vo. 4s. 9d. (6s.) [5]

"Dr. Cross is here publishing a selection from his old sermons; and he has hit upon the idea of attaching to each the date of its production and first preaching, so that, as he says, 'these discourses represent him in the successive stages of his ministry,' which is, he adds, 'the only autobiography he could produce, the only one, doubtless, to be desired.' Under these circumstances the discourses are of very various merit. But each and all of them are worth careful perusal and will be found to edify, though some in a greater degree than others. Sermons which represent a ministry of more than fifty-four years must have another source of interest, too, the psychological."

The Literary Churchman.

"Dr. Cross may be said to have been a preacher from his earliest years, for he tells us that the first sermon in this volume was 'preached at Pompey Hill, Onondaga County, N.Y., on the sixteenth anniversary of his nativity, July 4, 1829, written afterwards, and often repeated during the fifty years of his ministry.' In a quaint and amusing preface he records how at the bottom of the homiletical barrel he found a few old acquaintances in threadbare and tattered guise, smiling reproachfully out of the dust of an undeserved oblivion. He beckoned them forth, gave them new garments, and bade them go to the printer. And lo! here they are, twenty-two of them, in comely array, with fresh-anointed looks, knocking modestly at the door. The preacher's style is an attractive one, his language vigorous and eloquent, and there is an originality about him which is refreshing and captivating."—The Church Times.

PAULINE CHARITY: Discourses on the Thirteenth Chapter of Saint Paul's First Epistle to the Corinthians. By Rev. Joseph Cross, D.D. Portrait of Author. Crown 8vo. 4s. 9d. (6s.) [5]

"Pauline Charity is the title of a series of discourses on the well-known passage in the thirteenth chapter of 1 Corinthians, by the Rev. Dr. Cross, of New York. Full of beautiful thoughts clothed in eloquent language, these discourses cannot fail to be received with satisfaction."—The Rock.

"These are clear, instructive, thoroughly evangelical and highly edifying. They will serve as good models for young ministers in style, spirit, and directness of address."—The Lutheran Observer. [U.S.]

COALS FROM THE ALTAR: Sermons for the Christian Year. By Rev. Joseph Cross, D.D. 2 vols. crown 8vo. 9s. 6d. (12s.) [6]

"They are aptly named 'Coals from the Altar,' for they are admirably adapted to kindle a flame of fire in the Christian heart. The author's wealth of imagery, his warm sympathy and personal appeals, his fine descriptive powers and flow of language, his depth, pathos, and tenderness, do not need the fervour and emphasis of the living voice to send home the arrow of truth; but his sermons touch the feelings equally when addressed to the eye, by means of type, and become an efficient ministry of good."—The Churchman. [U.S.]

EVANGEL: Sermons for Parochial Missions. By Rev. Joseph Cross, D.D. Crown 8vo. 4s. 9d. (6s.) [5]

"Many books of sermons which are regarded as models have in them much less of thought and gospel truth."

The Literary Churchman. [U.S.]

"They unfold and enforce wisely and willingly the fundamental truths of the Gospel, and are direct and impressive in style."—The Congregationalist. [U.S.]

KNIGHT BANNERET: Sermons. By Rev. Joseph Cross, D.D. Crown 8vo. 4s. 9d. (6s.) [5]

"They are distinguished by remarkable intellectual force, point and brilliancy of statement, short, vigorous sentences, and a desire to benefit his fellows by teaching them the truth."—The Keystone. [U.S.]

"The sermons are serious and conservative in theological position, practical, and assisted towards their end by an unusual amount of illustration and metaphor."—The Independent. [U.S.]

Bishop Cotton's Memoir.

MEMOIR OF GEORGE EDWARD LYNCH COTTON, D.D., Bishop of Calcutta and Metropolitan, with Selections from his Journals and Correspondence. Edited by Mrs. COTTON. Fine portrait. Post 8vo. 2s. (7s. 6d.) [6]

Cowley-Brown's Short Expositions.

DAILY LESSONS ON THE LIFE OF OUR LORD ON EARTH, being the Gospel Narrative in the Words of the Evangelists. With a Short Exposition arranged for Daily Reading in the Household. By the Rev. G. J. Cowley-Brown, Rector of St. Edmund's, Salisbury. 2 vols. 8vo. 8s. 6d. (21s.) [9]

"Mr. Cowley-Brown has executed his task respectfully and usefully, and his readings might very well serve, if expanded a little, as sermons for general congregations; and it is no little gain to the clergy to get nearly six hundred homilies to their hand in a single work."—The Church Times.

Cushman's Sermons.

DOCTRINE AND DUTY; or, Notes of the Church. Sermons Occasional and Parochial. By Rev. George F. Cushman, D.D. Crown 8vo. 4s. (5s.) [6]

"We have seldom found a volume of sermons in which the interest is so thoroughly sustained throughout. Indeed, as the reader proceeds he finds himself warming with the spirit of the author, who thinks clearly and logically, and expresses his ideas with simplicity and force. The style is everywhere animated, yet dignified, and at times beautiful words so fitly spoken, that one might compare them to apples of gold in pictures of silver."—The Churchman. [U.S.]

An English clergyman, to whom the volume was submitted for criticism, writes to the London publisher: "I have looked with great pleasure through the volume. They are good, useful sermons, abounding with illustrations from Scripture, very earnest in tone and spirit. . . . Altogether the volume is much above the average of published sermons, and is one you can well recommend with confidence, and which is sure to sell well. . . . The title, 'Doctrine and Duty,' is expressive of the volume. Doctrine and duty run hand in hand through all its pages."

Davidson on the Old Testament Text.

THE HEBREW TEXT OF THE OLD TESTAMENT, revised from critical sources; being an attempt to present a purer and more correct text than the received one of Van Der Hooght; by the aid of the best existing materials: with the principal readings found in MSS., Ancient Versions, Jewish Books and Writers, Parallels, Quotations, &c., &c. LIFE IN CHRIST: Fifteen Sermons preached at Christ Church, Marylebone
By Rev. J. Llewelyn Davies, M.A. Crown 8vo. 1s. 6d. (5s.) [3]

Forty Thousand Quotations.

DAY'S COLLACON: An Encyclopædia of Prose Quotations, consisting of Beautiful Thoughts, Choice Extracts, and sayings of the most Eminent Writers of all Nations from the Earliest Ages to the Present Time, together with a comprehensive Biographical Dictionary of Authors, and an Alphabetical List of Subjects Quoted. Compiled and arranged by Edward Parsons Day. Beautifully illustrated with 125 portraits on steel and wood, especially engraved for this work, imp. 8vo. half bound, 28s. (35s.) [over 7 lbs.]

CONTENTS OF THE WORK: The work consists of Forty Thousand Quotations, taken from the writings and sayings of all the most noted authors, philosophers, and eminent men the world has ever produced, from the time of Zoroaster to the present time. There are eight thousand authors quoted upon two thousand topics. Its subject-heads are classified in alphabetical order; and each author is indexed with the quotation taken from his writings or sayings separately, so that the reader can find any quotation required. This feature is entirely original, and has never been attempted in any other work. The work is published in one imperial 8vo. volume of 1,232 pages, and is printed in new clear type, upon a heavy, highly calendered paper.

Four Books by Rev. W. Denton.

A COMMENTARY ON THE GOSPELS for the Sundays and other Holy Days of the Christian Year. By Rev. W. Denton, M.A., Worcester College, Oxford, and Incumbent of St. Bartholomew's, Cripplegate. THIRD EDITION. 3 vols. 8vo. £1. 11s. 6d. (£2. 14s.) [18]

A COMMENTARY ON THE EPISTLES for the Sundays and other Holy Days of the Christian Year. By Rev. W. Denton. SECOND EDITION. 2 vols. 8vo. £1. 1s. (£1. 16s.) [12]

A COMMENTARY ON THE ACTS OF THE APOSTLES. By Rev. W. Denton. 2 vols. 8vo. 19s. (£1. 12s.) [9]

These Commentaries originated in Notes collected by the compiler to aid in the composition of expository sermons. They are derived from all available sources, and especially from the wide but little-known field of theological comment found in the "Schoolmen" of the Middle Ages. They are recommended to the notice of all young clergymen, who frequently, while inexperienced, are called upon to preach to educated and intelligent congregations. The special nature of the sources from which they have been derived ought to make them indispensable to all who wish to expound the Holy Scriptures with as much understanding as may be obtained by extraneous help.

THE GRACE OF THE MINISTRY considered as a Divine Gift, of uninterrupted transmission and two-fold character. Edited by Rev W. Denton. Thick 8vo. 648 closely printed pages, 3s. (16s.) [6]

"This is a work of great learning and research, brought out after the author's death, by the careful editorial hand of Mr. Denton, whose own literary labours are well known and esteemed. The book is weighty in more senses than one. It consists of some 630 octavo pages of close (though very clear) print; and the subject-matter is not such as admits of light treatment. . . . The attempt has resulted in an eminently successful volume. To give anything like a complete idea of the range of reading, and the variety of argument and illustration which are presented to the reader, would carry us far beyond our scope."—Church Bells.

A Dictionary of the English Church.

A DICTIONARY OF THE ENGLISH CHURCH, ancient and modern.

Dollinger on Re-Union.

LECTURES ON THE RE-UNION OF THE CHURCHES. By John J. I. von Dollinger, D.D., D.C.L. Translated, with Preface, by HENRY NUTCOMBE OXENHAM, M.A. Post 8vo. 2s. (5s.) [3]

"The momentous question which the doctor discusses has long occupied the thoughts of some of the most earnest and enlightened divines in all branches of the Christian Communion, though wide apart in other points of belief and practice. On the infinite importance of re-union among Christian Churches in their endeavour to evangelise the yet remaining two-thirds of the human race—still strangers to any form of Christianity—the author enlarges with power and eloquence ; and this topic is one of unusual and lasting interest, though of course only one among a host of others equally important and equally well discussed. It is sufficient simply to call attention to a volume of this remarkable kind to insure for it a wide and immediate circulation, not only among members of the Churches but of all Christian denominations."—The Standard.

"Of the sermons themselves very little need be said. They are well chosen, and they represent some of the most famous modern preachers, and nearly all of the bodies of what are called evangelical preachers. The Church of England speaks through such men as Canon Melvill, Garbett, Dean Mansel, and Bishop Wilberforce. The Presbyterians are honoured by the selection of sermons by Dr. Caird, Dr. Arnot, Dr. Rainy, and the Rev. John Ker. The Congregational body by their Dr. Binney, Dr. Reynolds, the Rev. Mr. Dale, and the Rev. Dr. J. Pye Smith. The Baptists by the Rev. Alexander MacLaren and Dr. Brock ; and the Wesleyan Methodists by the Rev. W. M. Punshon. . . . We thank the publishers for bringing to the knowledge of the public and placing within their reach a volume remarkably rich in examples of pulpit wisdom and truly catholic in its scope and spirit. We doubt if a better collection of sermons was ever published."—The Churchman [U.S.]

Four Books by Archdeacon Farrar.

THE LIFE AND WORK OF ST. PAUL. By Frederic W. Farrar, D.D., Archdeacon and Canon of Westminster. 802 closely printed pages. Crown 8vo. 4s. 6d. (6s.) [6]

"Canon Farrar, in drawing this expressive and animated portraiture of the Apostle of the G tiles, has laid all classes of Christians under obligations, and thousands will gain from his pages a truer, richer, and more life-like conception of the character and work of St. Paul than it was possible for them to obtain before."—The Daily News.

"In truth, when one has thoroughly realised the vast and unwearied labour expended in laying the foundation of this work, one is compelled to admire more and more the genius which has been able so effectually to mould it, and to light it up with sufficing elements of human interest."—The Nonconformist.

THE EARLY DAYS OF CHRISTIANITY. By F. W. Farrar, D.D., 680 closely printed pages. Crown 8vo. 4s. 6d. (6s.) [6]

"Its object is to furnish English readers with a companion, partly historic, and partly expository, to the whole of the New Testament; and when we say that it fully answers this purpose, and that it is quite equal to the Canon's former works, we have said quite enough to commend it to the attention of our readers, many of whom will peruse and study it for themselves."—The Watchman.

"It displays in a marked degree the skill of the author in presenting old religious questions in new and vivid historic light."—The Scotsman.

THE LIFE OF CHRIST. By F. W. Farrar, D.D. Crown 8vo. uniform with the above, 4s. 6d. (6s.) [6]

"Dr. Farrar's qualifications for this great work are in many respects eminent. No thoughtful mind will rise from the perusal of this book without feeling that it reveals a beautiful and an harmonious conception. It will serve to raise the mind from mere objections in detail to a comprehensive view of the whole subject, and it will at the least assist candid objectors to do justice to the Christian tradition."—The Times.

MERCY AND JUDGMENT: A few last words on Christian Eschatology, with reference to Dr. Pusey's "What is of Faith?" By F. W. Farrar, D.D. Crown 8vo. 5s. (10s. 6d.) [6]

The Celebrated Revivalist.

CHARLES G. FINNEY: An Autobiography, specially prepared for English Readers. Fine Portrait. Thick crown 8vo. 3s. (5s.) [6]

The present edition of Mr. Finney's autobiography has been specially prepared for English readers; the work is presented in such a form as the author himself might have shaped it, had he lived to superintend the publication. The original was characterized by the wordiness of a first draft, while numerous needless repetitions occupied considerable space. Relieved of this redundancy, together with the omission of some few paragraphs of slight interest on this side of the Atlantic, it is believed the work is not marred, but rendered increasingly attractive.

Footman on the Prodigal Son.

FROM HOME AND BACK; or, Some Aspects of Sin as seen in the Light of the Parable of the Prodigal. Lenten Sermons preached in the Parish Church of Kensington.

By Rev. H. Footman, M.A., Vicar of Shoreditch. Post 8vo. 1s. 6d. (5s.) [3]

"These searching story sermons revive several aspects, not uncommon, of sin as seen in the light of the Prodigal Son. They were preached, as Lenten Sermons, in the parish church of Kensington, and fully deserve the attention of a less restricted audience."—The English Churchman.

"A series of sermons, which we are very glad to be able to speak well of. They are unpretending, and what we may call untheological; but they are sympathetic in tone, and employ to the utmost the opportunities which this above most parables gives for personal address and appeal. Quite the kind of sermons, we should imagine, which would be acceptable to a congregation."—The Literary World.

Formby on Monotheism.

MONOTHEISM: in the main derived from the Hebrew Nation and the Law of Moses, THE PRIMITIVE RELIGION OF THE CITY OF ROME: an Historical Investigation. By Rev. Henry Formby. Folded Frontispiece. 8vo. 3s. (12s.) [6]

Two Books by Rev. T. W. Fowle.

THE RECONCILIATION OF RELIGION AND SCIENCE, being Essays on Immortality, Inspiration, Miracles, and the Being of Christ. By Rev. T. W. Fowle, M.A., Vicar of St. Luke's, Nutford Place, London, Author of "The New Analogy, by 'Cellarius,'" &c. 8vo. 3s. (10s. 6d.) [6]

"Both the Old Testament and the Christian revelations are, he contends, essentially in agreement with the best results of modern thought, and harmonise thoroughly with our most philosophical notions of justice, liberty, and utility. Evolution, too, is a specially Christian idea, inspiring, as it does, 'reverence for the past and hope for the future.' In short, so far from there being any conflict between Christianity on the one hand, and philosophy and science on the other, they are, according to Mr. Fowle, the best friends possible. We believe he is substantially right. He has certainly argued his case ably and clearly, and produced a book which we hope will be widely read." The Spectator.

Graham on Ephesians.

LECTURES ON ST. PAUL'S EPISTLE TO THE EPHESIANS. By W. Graham, D.D., Author of "The Spirit of Love," "On Spiritualizing Scripture," "Water a Symbol of the Spirit," "The Jordan and the Rhine," &c., &c. Thick crown 8vo. 2s. 6d. (7s. 6d.) [6]

"We welcome with much pleasure this sound and excellent commentary on the Ephesians, which is at once solid in its substance, critical in its method, and practical in its lessons. Dr. Graham's exegesis is characterised by sound judgment and sanctified good sense. A strain of sincere piety and fervent devotion pervades the whole. The form of the book we think a subject of regret, as the volume itself is well worthy of the student's shelves, but is likely, from its small size, to be regarded rather as a popular commentary than as a scholarly one; which would do injustice to the book."—The Christian Advocate.

Grant's Sermons.

CHRIST OUR HOPE: and other (in all 31) Sermons. By Rev. William Grant, Minister of the Free Church of Scotland, Ayr, with Memorial Sketch by D. MACLAGAN, F.R.S.E. Portrait on Steel. Crown 8vo. 2s. 6d. (6s.) [6]

"The sermons, both in form and substance, are far out of the track of the commonplace. Altogether it is an admirable volume, and a most valuable addition to the sermon literature of the Church Catholic." The Daily Review.

"For a judicious mingling of evangelical truth with practical application, expressed in forcible and direct language, there are not many volumes of sermons that could take a higher place than these."—The Glasgow Daily Mail.

"Pregnant with earnestness, warmth, and power."—The Scotsman.

Hackett on the Acts.

A COMMENTARY ON THE ORIGINAL TEXT OF THE ACTS OF THE APOSTLES. By Horatio B. Hackett, D.D., Professor of Biblical Literature in Newton Theological Institution. Large 8vo. 5s. (12s. 6d.) [6]

"The object of this volume, as the author himself expresses it, is 'to determine by the rules of a just philology the meaning of the sacred writer, and not to develop the practical application, or, to any great extent, the doctrinal implications of this meaning.' The author is very successful in the attainment of his purpose, and has presented to the public a valuable contribution to the cause of scriptural exegesis. Although the writer does not formally enter into the discussion of doctrinal subjects, yet he does not shrink from expressing his views on important questions arising out of the text. We are happy to add that his sentiments are sound and orthodox, and in perfect harmony with evangelical truth."—The Record.

"Marked by sound scholarship, good common sense (an invaluable quality in an expositor), a candid and devout spirit . . . The English student will find much that is really valuable and helpful to him." The Expositor.

Hanson on St. Paul.

THE APOSTLE PAUL and the Preaching of Christianity in the Primitive Church. By Sir Richard Davis Hanson, Chief Justice of South Australia, Author of "The Jesus of History," "Letters to and from Rome," &c. 534 pp. 8vo. 3s. (12s.) [6]

Harris's Sermons.

DEATH AND RESURRECTION: Twenty-eight Sermons, with an Introduction on the Value of External Evidence. By Rev. Henry Harris, B.D., Rector of Winterbourne Bassett. Crown 8vo. 1s. 6d. (3s. 6d.) [3]

"For 'Short Sermons,' which they not only profess to be, but are, they are most excellent. To write a thoroughly good short sermon must be very difficult. Most clergymen tell us, quite sincerely, that they cannot write an interesting short sermon, and they do not. Very few of that kind are good. Yet these are excellent. They are short without being rapid and commonplace on the one hand, or reading like an analysis of longer sermons on the other: and they are devoted to subjects which are peculiarly difficult of treatment in this manner. We recommend them to the younger clergy for models."—Church Bells.

Harris on Agnosticism.

PRINCIPLES OF AGNOSTICISM APPLIED TO EVIDENCES OF CHRISTIANITY: Nine Sermons, with one on the Christian Doctrine of the Trinity. By Rev. John Andrew Harris, Rector of St. Paul's Church, Chestnut Hill, Philadelphia. Crown 8vo. 2s. 6d. (3s.) [3]

"They are clear in arrangement, concise in statement, and forcible in argument."—The Methodist Recorder. [U.S.]

"The book shows very considerable research and an intimate acquaintance with the development of the monotheistic idea among the Hebrews, Greeks, and Romans."—The New York Herald.

"He also throws a new light upon his subject through a searching philosophical inquiry and logical statement, which render his ten sermons very instructive in the matters of dogma, history, and scientific discussion."

Hausser on the Reformation.

THE PERIOD OF THE REFORMATION, 1517-1648. By Prof. L. Hausser, edited by W. ONCKEN, Professor of History at the University of Giessen. Translated by Mrs. G. STURGE. A New and Cheaper Edition, in One Volume. 726 closely-printed pages. Crown 8vo. 4s. (5s.) [6]

"It would be difficult to find a book better suited to give a just and comprehensive view of the subject. Not its least valuable characteristic is the connection which it enables the reader to perceive in periods which are commonly studied by themselves."—The Spectator.

"We recommend it to all who wish to understand the history of Europe since the sixteenth century. Once opened it will be read."—The Watchman.

A Valuable Homiletic Work.

THE HOMILETIC QUARTERLY, 1877 to 1881, 5 vols. square royal 8vo. £1. 1s. (£2. 10s.) or, together with its successor, THE HOMILETIC MAGAZINE, 1882, to June, 1883, 3 vols.; the 8 vols. uniformly bound, £1. 16s. (£3. 12s.) [each vol. 6]

*^o The volumes can also be obtained separately at 6s. each, net; also Vols. IX., X., and XI., containing the numbers from July, 1883, to December, 1884, at 6s. each (7s. 6d.).

"Other departments make up, with the above, a work of real merit, whether we regard the range of its subjects or the distinguished men who are its contributors. It is intended as an 'International and Undenominational Preachers' Magazine,' and the preacher who knows how to use such a publication will find it fruitful of suggestion and a compendium of scholarly instruction. It is the best of the whole family of 'Helps' we have seen, because it leans with a strong advance towards study, and does not seek to simply supplement clerical indolence. The long list of names on the title-page carries an infection of industry."—Rev. H. W. BEECHER in The Christian Union.

"This is the BEST and most widely circulated of the books published in England for the promotion of pulpit oratory. It is carefully edited and replete with solid matter. Its standpoint is large-hearted, above creeds, and evangelical in the widest sense. Its contents fully justify us in recommending it to preachers and theologians generally, and in Germany also."—J. CHRISTIAN BELIEVING AND LIVING. By F. D. Huntington, D.D. Crown 8vo. 2s. 6d. (3s.) [3]

"BISHOP HUNTINGTON'S reputation was made many years ago by the publication of that singularly beautiful book, Christian Believing and Living. Each succeeding volume from his pen has but raised that reputation, and the one before us will not lower it. These sermons are mainly practical : yet they teem with fresh and suggestive thought, and are full of fine flashes of the best sort of pulpit eloquence. The author has aimed in each sermon to so open a single aspect of Christian truth, or of the Christian life, as to help the reader to seize and hold that truth as a reality, and live that life with courage and joy. The ordinary reader will find this a helpful and refreshing book, while the preacher will find in it many a useful thought, and an excellent model for the formation of his own pulpit style."

Jacob on Ecclesiastical Polity.

THE ECCLESIASTICAL POLITY OF THE NEW TESTAMENT, a Study for the present crisis in the Church of England. By G. A. Jacob, D.D., late Head Master of Christ's Hospital. SECOND EDITION. Thick post 8vo. 3s. 6d. (16s.) [6]

"Dr. Jacob has for his object to direct the attention of English Churchmen to the really primitive forms of Christian ordinances as they may be gathered from the New Testament itself. He reviews the Scriptural and earliest patristic evidence on the points at issue, and it should especially be pointed out how flimsy many of the superstitious claims he controverts are made to appear when, as a cool but ripe scholar, he examines in the original the Scriptural texts by which it is endeavoured to support them."—The Westminster Review.

Japp's German Life and Literature.

GERMAN LIFE AND LITERATURE: in a Series of Biographical Studies. By A. H. Japp, LL.D. 8vo. 548 pp. 7s. (12s.) [6]

"This volume, as a whole, is admirable, each chapter being characterised by thoroughness, impartiality, fine critical discernment, an always manly literary ability, and, above all, a moral healthiness of tone. In fact, we are not acquainted with any English work, or, for that matter, with any Continental or American work, which we could place with so much confidence in the hands of a young student of modern German literature as the volume under review, and as special proof of our assertion we would select the essay on Goethe. . . . For this work we must express sincere gratitude to the author."—The Spectator.

Three Books by Rev. J. Cynddylan Jones.

STUDIES IN ST. JOHN. By Rev. J. Cynddylan Jones of Cardiff. Crown 8vo. 3s. 9d. (5s.) [5]

"The chorus of approval which greeted Mr. Jones's previous 'Studies,' has created a standard of criticism for this new venture altogether out of the range of that by which ordinary sermons are to be judged. Mr. Jones stepped at once into the front rank of pulpit expositors, and we have seen no reason for rescinding our former judgment in classing him with Robertson and Bushnell, and, in some respects, even above them."—The Methodist Recorder.

STUDIES IN ST. MATTHEW. By Rev. J. Cynddylan Jones. SECOND EDITION. Crown 8vo. 3s. 9d. (5s.) [5]

"Dr. Parker's recent volume, 'These Sayings of Mine,' has done much to disclose the spiritual richness of the first gospel. In another way, less brilliant, but hardly less suggestive, the Rev. J. Cynddylan Jones, in his 'Studies in the Gospel according to St. Matthew,' also contributes to our understanding of that biography of our Lord which forms the great connecting link between Hebrew and Christian ideas. Strength of thought and simplicity of illustration are alike noticeable in these 'Studies,' and we would commend them to the careful perusal of all who would present the teaching of Christ in its adaptation to this age—an adaptation too often concealed by the traditions of schools and churches."—The Christian World.

STUDIES IN THE ACTS OF THE APOSTLES. By Rev. J. Cynddylan Jones. SECOND EDITION. Crown 8vo. 3s. 9d. (5s.) [5]

"Mr. Jones is a warm, sparkling Welsh preacher. These sermons upon the Acts are worthy of a great Association meeting among the mountains, in the days of Christmas Evans. They are fresh and lively; thoughtful and fiery; just the sort to hold a congregation spell-bound. We do not mean that there is anything rough or off-hand in Mr. Jones's discourses, for they exhibit a good deal of finish and elegance, but they are not overdone in that direction so as to die of dignity. We are glad to see the more striking points of a book of Scripture set forth in this fashion by a great preacher; for thus our lights of exposition are increased, and the Word is better understood. Much more might be done in this direction to the gain of the Church. We are not at all surprised that these 'Studies' have reached a second edition: they belong to an order of books which will always command a sale so long as Scriptural exposition is valued, and that will be the case so long as spiritual men are left among us."—The Sword and Trowel.

Keble's Sacred Studies.

STUDIA SACRA: Commentaries on the Introductory Verses of St. John's Gospel, and on a portion of St. Paul's Epistle to the Romans; with other Theological Papers. By Rev. John Keble, M.A. 8vo. 5s. 6d. (10s. 6d.) [6]

Kempthorne's Sermons.

BRIEF WORDS ON SCHOOL LIFE: Thirty-two Short Addresses based on a Course of Scripture Reading in School. By Rev. John Kempthorne, M.A., Principal of Blackheath Proprietary School. 12mo. 1s. 6d. (3s. 6d.) [3]

"We have read the addresses contained in this volume with great pleasure and satisfaction. They are skillfully adapted to the wants and habits of boys, and convey solid truth on the side which touches a boy's temptations. They are replete with sound doctrine, but not in formal and technical statements. The valuable lessons are conveyed in a clear, unaffected style, to which the occasional use of the plain vernacular gives vividness and force. We pray that God may largely extend such teaching throughout our schools."—The Christian Advocate.

Kingsley's Sermons.

SERMONS FOR THE TIMES. By Rev. Charles Kingsley, M.A., Canon of Westminster. Crown 8vo. 4s. 9d. (6s.) [5]

Kip's Unnoticed Things of Scripture.

THE UNNOTICED THINGS OF SCRIPTURE. By Rt. Rev. W. Ingraham Kip, Bishop of California, Author of "The Lenten Fast," "The Double Witness of the Church," &c. &c. Crown 8vo. 2s. 9d. (3s. 6d.) [3]

"A particularly interesting volume, which will be found most suggestive to readers of all classes. The subjects are most varied, forming fifty-four short chapters, necessarily of very different degrees of interest; but none are pointless, and some—such as those on 'The Reserve of the Gospel,' 'Mountains,' 'Men drawn by their business,' and 'The Fullness of the Earth'—are very remarkable and suggestive. One would be inclined to say that one could read nothing fresh on the subject of the Prodigal Son, and yet the Bishop's two little chapters on his words of penitence, and on the 'Elder Son,' will, we believe, open a new train of thought to many readers. We hope the book may obtain a large circulation in England."—The Literary Churchman.

Kitto's Biblical Cyclopædia.

A CYCLOPÆDIA OF BIBLICAL LITERATURE. By John Kitto, D.D., F.S.A. THIRD EDITION, edited by W. Lindsay Alexander, D.D., assisted by numerous contributors, with Biographical Notices and General Index, steel engravings and woodcuts, 3 vols. royal 8vo., an aggregate of 3,044 closely printed pages, £1. 8s. (£2. 2s.) [27]

Lacordaire's Conferences.

JESUS CHRIST—GOD—GOD AND MAN. Conferences delivered at Notre Dame, in Paris. By Rev. Père Lacordaire, of the Order of Friar-Preachers. Translated from the French. THE THREE VOLUMES IN ONE. Thick crown 8vo. 4s. 6d. (6s.) [6]

Two Books by Dr. Lawson.

LECTURES ON THE WHOLE BOOK OF RUTH.—DISCOURSES ON THE WHOLE BOOK OF ESTHER. Three Sermons on Parental Duties. By George Lawson, D.D., Minister of the Associate Congregation, Selkirk, with a Memoir of his Life and Writings by HENRY BELFRAGE, D.D. The whole reprinted in 1 vol. 8vo. new, 5s. net, Philadelphia, U.S.A. 1869. [6]

LECTURES ON THE HISTORY OF JOSEPH. By Rev. George Lawson, D.D. A NEW EDITION, with Prefatory Note by Rev. W. PEDDIE, D.D. Crown 8vo. 4s. (6s. 6d.) [6]

"We knew well the amiable and venerable author of these volumes; we had full opportunity to appreciate his worth; we have never seen his equal in various respects and cannot reasonably expect to see it now. All that could be said by those who knew well the reputation which, as a scholar and a man of original thinking, it was in his power to acquire, could not induce him to engage in any work of a learned description; and with regard to fine writing it was as little his aim. In all the books that he published, the instruction of ordinary readers was manifestly his object. There was a modesty, a guileless simplicity, an abhorrence of ostentation, a sincerity, an explicitness, an unbending integrity, united to the utmost gentleness and forbearance, which characterised all his deportment, and communicated their influence to all the effusions of his pen."—Dr. JOHN BROWN.

Leathes' Hulsean Lectures.

THE GOSPEL ITS OWN WITNESS: the Hulsean Lectures for 1873. By Stanley Leathes, D.D., Professor of Hebrew at King's College, London; Boyle Lecturer, 1868-70; Warburtonian Lecturer, 1876-80. Post 8vo. 2s. 6d. (5s.) [3]

This volume presents the evidential aspect of the Christian faith in a plain, matter-of-fact, common-sense way. The author holds that, if we are sincere disciples of Christianity, we need not shrink from being advocates likewise, so long as we do not suffer our advocacy to warp our judgment.

Three Books by F. G. Lee, D.D.

THE CHURCH UNDER QUEEN ELIZABETH: an Historical Sketch, with an Introduction on the present position of the Established Church. By Frederick George Lee, D.D., Vicar of All Saints', Lambeth. 2 vols. cr. 8vo. 6s. 6d. (£1. 1s.) [6]

"They seem to be very carefully done, and contain much matter new to me and very important in the controversy."—CARDINAL NEWMAN.

"There is the same picturesqueness of detail, the same vigorous denunciation, the same graphic power which made the earlier book pleasant reading even to many who disagreed heartily with its tone and object. . . . Dr Lee's strength lies in very graphic description."—Notes and Queries.

A GLOSSARY OF LITURGICAL AND ECCLESIASTICAL TERMS. Compiled by F. G. Lee, D.D. With 129 illustrations on wood. 8vo. 7s. (£1. 1s.) [6]

THE DIRECTORIUM ANGLICANUM: being a Manual of Directions for the right Celebration of the Holy Communion, for the Saying of Matins and Evensong, and for the Performance of other Rights and Ceremonies of the Church, according to Ancient Uses of the Church of England. Plan and Illustrations. FOURTH EDITION, carefully revised, with numerous emendations. Edited by F. G. Lee, D.D. Small 4to. 8s. 6d. (£1. 1s.) [6]

"The existence of one such work of credit and reputation must do something to diminish the varieties of Ritualism into which the taste or studies of independent explorers might lead them. . . . The book must be admitted to stand without a rival in its own line; and if there are few who are prepared to adopt its system as a whole, there are fewer still who might not gather from its pages some hints for the more decent and orderly performance of their own public ministrations in church."—The Guardian.

Legge on Chinese Religions.

THE RELIGIONS OF CHINA: Confucianism and Tâoism described and compared with Christianity. By James Legge, Professor of the Chinese Language and Literature in the University of Oxford. Crown 8vo. 3s. 6d. (6s.) [6]

"There are few people better entitled to speak on the subject of the religions of China, more especially of Confucianism, than Dr. Legge. His knowledge of the early classical literature of China has been gained, as he tells us, by an intimate study extending over nearly half a century. Not only is he thoroughly acquainted with the texts, but he has drunk deeply of the wisdom which the native commentators have brought to bear in the elucidation of them. On the other hand his long service as a clergyman in China must have given him endless opportunities, by means of observation and discussion, of comparing the faiths which he sought to overturn with that which he offered in their places. From both sides, therefore, he is able to approach the question of a comparison between the religions of China and of Christianity at a manifest advantage."—PROF. DOUGLAS in The Academy.

Lewin on St. Paul.

THE LIFE AND EPISTLES OF ST. PAUL. By Thomas Lewin, M.A., F.S.A. FOURTH EDITION, revised. Plates, Woodcuts in the Text, and Coloured Maps. 2 vols. 4to. £1. 4s. (£2. 2s.) [18]

Long's Roman History.

THE DECLINE OF THE ROMAN REPUBLIC. By George Long. 5 vols. 8vo. £1. 14s. (£3. 10s.) [21]

"If any one can guide us through the almost inextricable mazes of this labyrinth, it is Mr. Long. As a chronicler, he possesses all the requisite knowledge, and what is nearly, if not quite as important, the necessary caution. He never attempts to explain that which is hopelessly corrupt or obscure: he does not confound twilight with daylight; he warns the reader repeatedly that he is standing on shaking ground; he has no framework of theory into which he presses his facts."—The Saturday Review.

M'Crie's Religion of Literature.

THE RELIGION OF OUR LITERATURE; Essays upon THOMAS CARLYLE, ROBERT BROWNING, ALFRED TENNYSON, &c., including Criticisms upon the Theology of "GEORGE ELIOT," GEORGE MACDONALD, and ROBERTSON OF BRIGHTON. By George M'Crie. 8vo. 3s. (9s.) [6]

George Macdonald on Hymnology.

ENGLAND'S ANTIPHON. By George Macdonald, LL.D. Frontispiece and Vignette. Crown 8vo. 2s. (4s.) [5]

Macdonald on John.

THE LIFE AND WRITINGS OF ST. JOHN. By James M. Macdonald, D.D., Princeton, New Jersey. Edited, with an Introduction, by J. S. HOWSON, D.D., Dean of Chester. Maps and Illustrations. Royal 8vo. 7s. 6d. (10s. 6d.) [6]

"The name of Dean Howson, as editor, is a guarantee for the scholarship and general literary execution of the work. . . . Dr. Macdonald has made a really valuable addition to our theological and religious literature—one, too, that puts forth sound views on the great questions connected with the Fourth Gospel."—The Record.

M'Ilvaine's Righteousness by Faith.

RIGHTEOUSNESS BY FAITH; or, The Nature and Means of our Justification before God; illustrated by a comparison of the doctrine of the Oxford Tracts with that of the Romish and Anglican Churches. Macleod on the Temptation.

THE TEMPTATION OF OUR LORD. By Norman Macleod, D.D. Crown 8vo. 2s. 6d. (5s.) [3]

M'Michael on the Pilgrim Psalms.

THE PILGRIM PSALMS: An Exposition of the Songs of Degrees, Psalms cxx. to CXXXIV. By Rev. N. M'Michael, D.D., Dunfermline, Professor of the History of Doctrines to the United Presbyterian Church. 12mo. 3s. (4s. 6d.) [3]

"A capital work, full of sound doctrine perfumed with devotion."—Rev. C. H. SPURGEON.

"The fruits of profound research and various reading are everywhere apparent, but they are never pedantically obtruded. The volume cannot be read without edification and profit in many ways."—The Baptist Magazine.

"Its soul is the Sacred Scriptures. It is a fountain of genuine consolation, a cordial for drooping spirits."

The Christian Witness.

Macmillan's Marriage at Cana.

THE MARRIAGE IN CANA OF GALILEE. By Hugh Macmillan, D.D., Author of "Bible Teachings in Nature," "The True Vine," "Two Worlds are Ours," &c., &c. Crown 8vo. 4s. 9d. (6s.) [3]

Martin on Messiah's Kingdom.

MESSIAH'S KINGDOM, in its Origin, Development, and Triumph. By Rev. B. Martin, A.M., Leslie. Crown 8vo. 2s. (5s.) [6]

"A volume of good value in its own line."—The Sword and Trowel.

"Altogether the work is one which reflects great credit on Mr. Martin's ability, learning, and diligence."

The North British Daily Mail.

"With considerable powers of grasp and spiritual discernment, Mr. Martin traces the Church in its divine idea and development."—The British Quarterly Review.

"The book is healthy and timely."—The Wesleyan Methodist Magazine.

Samuel Martin's Sermons.

COMFORT IN TROUBLE: Twenty-six Sermons and Outlines. By Rev. Samuel Martin, Westminster Chapel. Crown 8vo. 2s. 6d. (3s. 6d.) [3]

"The most successful and most gifted dissenting minister in London."—The Christian Advocate.

"A preacher who commands the love, reverence, and admiration of all who listen to him. . . . Pathos, beauty, devoutness, tenderness, and earnestness are the most conspicuous qualities of Mr. Martin's preaching."

The Congregationalist.

King's College Lectures.

MASTERS IN ENGLISH THEOLOGY; being the King's College Lectures for 1877. Edited with a historical preface, by ALFRED BARRY, D.D., Principal. Crown 8vo. 3s. (7s. 6d.) [5]

CONTENTS: Richard Hooker, by Alfred Barry, D.D.—Lancelot Andrewes, by Dean Church—William Chillingworth, by E. H. Plumptre, D.D.—Benjamin Whichcote, by Canon Westcott—Jeremy Taylor, by Canon Farrar—John Pearson, by S. Cheetham, M.A.

"Boldly, clearly, and in some cases eloquently, written; marked by the best fruits of ripe scholarship, sound criticism, and careful study, they present in a compact and handy form an amount of information and wise teaching concerning the past and present history and doctrine of the English Church not to be found elsewhere. The editor has done good service, not only by his own able lecture on Hooker, but by contributing an introductory essay on the special aim and contents of the whole volume."—The Standard.

Maurice's Ecclesiastical History.

LECTURES ON THE ECCLESIASTICAL HISTORY of the First and Second Centuries. By Frederick Denison Maurice, M.A. 8vo. 6s. (10s. 6d.) [6]

Mellor's Sermons.

THE HEM OF CHRIST'S GARMENT and other Sermons. By the late Enoch Mellor, D.D., Halifax, Author of "Ritualism," "Priesthood," &c., &c. With a Biographical Sketch by HENRY ROBERT REYNOLDS, D.D. SECOND EDITION. Thick crown 8vo. 4s. 6d. (6s.) [6]

"The volume before us contains discourses which are much above the average, and are worthy of publication. They are really vigorous in thought, forcible in style, sometimes eloquent, and always full of practical judgment."

The Scotsman.

"The sermons contained in this volume are of rare beauty, and are characterised by intellectual ability, strong conviction, and mental powers, by all of which the reverend author was distinguished."—The Christian.

Melvill's Lothbury Lectures.

LECTURES DELIVERED AT ST. MARGARET'S, LOTHBURY. By Rev. Henry Melvill, B.D. Crown 8vo. 2s. 6d. (5s.) [3]

"We heartily welcome this new edition of Henry Melvill's valuable lectures. His witness on important truths will be, in the opinion of many, all the more valuable because, although he held in the main all Evangelical doctrine, he was in no sense of the word a party-man. Over and above his singular gifts of eloquence, which are not always combined with sound judgment, he had the latter quality in abundance. His shrewd penetration, enlightened by the teaching of the Word of God, could distinguish things which differ,—a faculty many seem to be wholly devoid of. Large minded, he was free from that spurious liberality which seems to be perpetually enamoured of and hankering after error. He saw clearly and spoke plainly. These qualities are abundantly exemplified in these lectures, delivered to a congregation of intelligent and hard-headed business men."—The Christian Observer.

CONTENTS: The Claims of Cæsar and of God, Matt. xxii. 21—The Wheat and the Tares, Matt. xiii. 28 to 30—The Lord and Baal, 1 Kings xviii. 21—The Pharisee and the Publican, Luke xvii. 9—The Two Sepulchres at Bethel, 2 Kings xxiii. 17, 18—The Faithful Centurion, Matt. viii. 10 to 12—The Destruction of the Canaanites, Josh. x. 40—The Rejection of Saul, 1 Sam. xv. 28 to 30—David's Sin and Chastisement, 2 Sam. xii. 9, 10—The Samaritans and the Jews, John iv. 21 to 23—The Sudden Coming of Christ, Mal. iii. 1, 2—The Gainsaying of Core, Jude 11.—The Obedience of the Rechabites, Jer. xxxv. 18, 19—Job Penitent, Job xlii. 5, 6—The Relapsed Demoniack, Luke xi. 24 to 26—The Feeding of the Five Thousand, John vi. 3 to 5—The Accepted Malefactor, Luke xxiii. 39 to 43—The Christian Pentecost, Acts ii. 33—Confidence towards God, 1 John iii. 21 to 24—The Honour of the Holy Apostles, Luke xxii. 28 to 30—Christ presented in the Temple, a sign of contradiction, Luke ii. 34, 35—Self-Discipline the security against Reprobation, 1 Cor. ix. 25 to 27—The Rejection of Esau, Heb. xii. 15 to 17—Christian Light to the Penitent, Eph. v. 13, 14.

Miller on Proverbs.

A COMMENTARY ON THE PROVERBS, with a new translation, and with some of the original expositions re-examined in a classified list. By Rev. John Miller, Princeton, U.S.A., Author of "Fetich in Theology," &c. 652 pp. 8vo. 6s. (9s.) [6]

"In a field which has been so rarely cultivated with diligence, in a mine which has been so little explored with patient skill, there was ample room for a new worker; and if he has gone about his task with somewhat of boldness, and with no great reverence for those who have preceded him, we are content to make a lenient allowance for this, because he certainly has something to say worth hearing."—The Record.

Miller on the Articles.

THE THIRTY-NINE ARTICLES of the Church of England: a Historical and Speculative Exposition. By Rev. Joseph Miller, B.D., Curate of Maryport, Cumberland. Vols. I. and II. crown 8vo. 3s. (7s.); a few copies of Vol. II., separately, 1s. 6d. (3s. 6d.) [each 3]

CONTENTS: Vol. I. Preface—History of the Thirty-nine Articles—Art. i. Christian Theism: the Holy Trinity—Art. ii., Christology: Soteriology—Art. iii. and iv., Eschatology—Art. v., Pneumatology—Synopsis of the remaining groups—Vol. II. Miller on Gideon.

THE GREATEST OF THE JUDGES; Principles of Church Life illustrated in the Life of Gideon. By Rev. W. Miller, M.A., Principal of Madras Christian College. Crown 8vo. 2s. 6d. (4s. 6d.) [3]

"Expository works are always valued when they are the fruit of independent thought, and of honest and conscientious study. Among these this book may be named. Mr. Miller sees certain principles of Church life illustrated in the history of Gideon, and he has explained and enforced these with undoubted ability." The Family Treasury.

"These discourses exhibit a good deal of power of thought and expression; and can be recommended for reading in a common-sense manner with the failure of the Church to make its due impression on the world. Gideon's history is very well delineated."—The Christian World.

Cheap Volume of Sermons.

THE MODERN SCOTTISH PULPIT: Sermons by Ministers of various denominations. SELECTED VOLUME, containing FIFTY-TWO DISCOURSES, arranged in the Biblical order of their texts. Thick 8vo. 2s. 6d. net. [6]

"Containing sermons by ministers of various denominations, and furnishing much excellent reading."—The Rock.
 "This volume presents an excellent specimen of the modern evangelical preaching of Scotland at its best."

The Liverpool Mercury.

A Welsh clergyman, writing to the publisher of this catalogue, in October, 1884, says:—"I should be glad if you had one or two vols. of good sermons by Nonconformist Ministers, which you could forward, similar to the 'Modern Scottish Pulpit' published by you. It is a truly excellent collection. I wish I could get other volumes of equal merit."

Daniel Moore on Canticles.

CHRIST AND HIS CHURCH: Lent Lectures on the Song of Solomon. By Rev. Daniel Moore, M.A., Vicar of Holy Trinity, Paddington. Cr. 8vo. 1s. 3d. (3s. 6d.) [3]

"These lectures, on the first chapter only of the Canticles, are less exegetical than spiritual. The author deals with the criticism of the subject in a popular way, at the commencement of his book, in a short introduction. After detailing shortly the various schemes of interpretation which have been proposed, he concludes that the old explanation, which refers the mystical meaning of the poem to Christ and His Church, is on the whole to be preferred, and then proceeds in the lectures to pursue it further. . . . It is a beautiful and poetic thought, at all events, and the present writer has made excellent use of it."—The Literary Churchman.

Moore on Our Lord's Proverbial Sayings.

PROVERBIAL SAYINGS OF OUR LORD: Studies of some axioms in Our Saviour's Teaching. By Rev. William Kennedy Moore, D.D., Author of "Life's Everlasting Victory," "Martyr Songs," &c. Crown 8vo. 2s. 6d. (5s.) [5]

"The seventeen proverbial sayings he has selected for comment and illustration leave nothing to be desired, and we have read the book with the greatest pleasure, not only for the beauty of the language employed, or the practical way in which the various subjects are treated, but also for the breadth of view and general acceptance of the facts of to-day's science which every page discloses. . . . We have only to add that the work is very elegantly got up."

The Hampshire Post and Southsea Observer.

D. Parker Morgan's Sermons.

BY LITTLE AND LITTLE, and other Sermons. By Rev. D. Parker Morgan, M.A., Vicar of Aberdovey. Crown 8vo. 2s. (3s. 6d.) [3]

"These sermons are distinguished chiefly by considerable strength and originality of thought, sound Scriptural exposition, and earnest and powerful application to the hearts and consciences of men. They are eminently evangelical and practical, and no one can read them through without being impressed and improved."

The Irish Church Advocate.

"The chief interest of these sermons consists in their originality and simplicity, and frank and familiar style of address. They are far remote from the dull and drowsy discourses with which vicars, as well as others, have often been charged."—The Sword and Trowel.

Mosheim's The Church in China.

AUTHENTIC MEMOIRS OF THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH IN CHINA. By J. L. von Mosheim, D.D. Edited, with an Introduction and Notes, by RICHARD GIBBINGS, B.D. 8vo. 1s. 6d. (3s. 6d.) [3]

Norton's Church Building in the Middle Ages.

HISTORICAL STUDIES OF CHURCH BUILDING in the Middle Ages: Venice, Siena, Florence. By Charles Eliot Norton. Large 8vo. beautifully printed on fine thick paper, top edges gilt, 4s. 6d. (15s.) New York. [6]

"It is an elaborate treatise on the ecclesiastical architecture of Venice, Siena, and Florence, in the most famous periods of church-building. It describes the methods and processes then in use, with an account of the most celebrated architects, and complete details of the most important churches, their history, their characteristic features, and the legends connected with them. The work is written in a quiet, dignified, scholarly, and singularly lucid style."

Norton's Sermons.

FIFTY-TWO SHORT SERMONS for the Christian Year. By Rev. John N. Norton, D.D., Associate Rector of Christ Church, Louisville, Kentucky, U.S.A. Fourteenth Edition, 8vo. 4s. 9d. (6s.) [6]

"These sermons are commendably plain, homely, and yet, if we may borrow an epithet that is generally applied to a story, and give it to a sermon—entertaining. The style is so terse and simple, so much like truth, and the subjects are so practical, and the illustrations are so frequent, and so apt and pointed, that the man must be very ignorant or very drowsy who should find it difficult to give them his attention."—The Churchman's Monthly Magazine. [U.S.]

EVERY SUNDAY: A Course of Sixty-four Sermons for the Christian Year. By Rev. J. N. Norton, D.D. Seventh Edition, 8vo. 4s. 9d. (6s.) [6]

"The sermons seem to deserve the popularity they have attained. They are familiar, rich in Scriptural researches and textual quotation; and the author has collected stores of epigrammatic sayings and apposite anecdotes, which light up a sermon wonderfully, and are welcome to most congregations. We can speak well of this volume, and we think that most sermon buyers will not be otherwise than pleased with it likewise, should they purchase it."—The Literary Churchman.

GOLDEN TRUTHS: a Course of Sixty-nine Sermons for the Christian Year, with a Special Series for Holy Week. By Rev. J. N. Norton, D.D. Sixth Edition, 8vo. 4s. 9d. (6s.) [6]

"This volume of sermons comes to us from America, where its author appears to be in high repute. They are bright and effective in style and are likely to be read with more than ordinary interest, owing to the admirable manner in which the various themes are handled."—The Rock.

WARNING AND TEACHING: a Course of Sixty-two Sermons for the Christian Year. By Rev. J. N. Norton, D.D. Second Edition, 8vo. 4s. 9d. (6s.) [6]

"In plainness and simplicity they certainly have never been excelled."—The Churchman. [U.S.]
 "The sermons are animated and inspiring in style and thought, and interspersed continually with anecdotes of history and current life."—The Independent. [U.S.]
 "They are of sound doctrine and popular in style. We believe they will be found highly valuable, and recommend them."—The Episcopal Register. [U.S.]

OLD PATHS: a Course of Seventy-one Sermons for the Christian Year, including a Series of Seven upon the History of Joseph, and a Series of Seventeen upon the History of St. Paul. By Rev. J. N. Norton, D.D. 8vo. 4s. 9d. (6s.) [6]

MILK AND HONEY: Twenty-four Sermons to Children. By Rev. J. N. Norton, D.D. 12mo. 2s. (2s. 6d.) [3]

"This little volume consists of twenty-four short sermons to children. The author, Dr. Norton, a parish priest of the American Church, tells us that they have been preached at a Children's Service, which was held on the evenings of the first Sunday in each month, and which attracted large congregations. The secret of the attraction may be found in the character of the sermons, which are short, pithy, and full of interest. Dr. Norton seems to have at command an endless store of anecdote and illustration, which he uses with great force and judgment."

The Ecclesiastical Gazette.

"It is confessedly a difficult task to speak attractively to children: but these discourses were, we doubt not, listened to with interest by the young people for whom they were originally prepared."—The Lay Preacher.

Perry's St. Hugh.

THE LIFE OF ST. HUGH OF AVALON, Bishop of Lincoln, with some account of his predecessors in the See of Lincoln. By Rev. George G. Perry, M.A., Canon of Lincoln, Author of "Life and Times of Bishop Grosseteste," &c. Portrait. Thick crown 8vo. 3s. (10s. 6d.) [6]

"In writing this life of St. Hugh of Avalon, he has contributed an interesting chapter to the history of the English Church during this period, and he has done his best, and he has done it well, to preserve the memory of a worthy whom we would not willingly have forgotten. It is a volume which has greatly interested us, and which we are sure will interest all readers who delight in Ecclesiastical story."—John Bull.

The Preacher's Monthly.

THE PREACHER'S MONTHLY: a Storehouse of Homiletic Help. Vols. II., July—December, 1881; III. and IV., 1882; V. and VI., 1883. 8vo. each 3s. (5s. 6d.) VII., January to June, 1884, 4s. 6d. (5s. 6d.); VIII., July to December, 1884, 4s. (5s.) [each 6]

* * Each Volume is complete in itself, and contains about 376 closely printed pages.

The appended note was received by the Publishers from the late ARCHBISHOP OF CANTERBURY.

"GENTLEMEN,—I am directed by the Archbishop of Canterbury to inform you that he took an opportunity a few days ago of examining a number of The Preacher's Monthly. His Grace desires me to say that he was much pleased with the article he read, and trusts that your publication may prove a useful one.—Believe me to be, faithfully yours, "PONSONBY OGLE, Private Sec."

"Much excellent material will be found in this volume, which is likely to prove especially useful to the class indicated by the title. The general articles on the theory and practice of preaching are admirably written, and the sermon-notes will be found very suggestive."—The Rock.

LECTURES ON HOSEA XIV.: preached during Lent, 1869. By Rev. J. W. Reeve. SECOND EDITION. Crown 8vo. 1s. 6d. (3s. 6d.) [3]

"Such a congregation as that thus gathered in Portman Chapel was unique in rank, intellectual status and influence. It was not less remarkable for the eminent piety of its members than for their devoted attachment to their pastor. There was evidently a power at work and widely felt attracting thither alike the rich and the poor. What was that power? Not the oratory of the preacher; for his preaching was in plain words with simple thoughts unadorned with rhetoric or the wisdom of men. Not music; for Portman Chapel never attempted choral services. Not the building in its adornments, for it at that time lacked any feature of architectural beauty or merit. What, then, was the attractive power which drew together and retained undiminished for thirty years that large united congregation? It was the old old story of Jesus and His love, of Jesus and His sufferings, of Jesus and His triumphs. It was the inherent force of the Gospel message welling forth from a heart and mind which knew and owned its power. It was the sweet freshness of the Gospel in all its purity; the winning attraction of the Gospel in all its amazing love and preciousness."—The Record.

The Pulpit Commentary.

THE PULPIT COMMENTARY, by various Authors. Edited by the Rev. Canon H. D. M. SPENCE, M.A., Vicar and Rural Dean of St. Pancras, and Examining Chaplain to the Lord Bishop of Gloucester and Bristol; and by the Rev. JOSEPH S. EXELL, formerly Editor of "The Homiletic Quarterly." Large 8vo.

"We repeat emphatically the high encomium which we have passed upon former volumes of 'The Pulpit Commentary.' This is a grand book."—Rev. C. H. SPURGEON in The Sword and Trowel.

"We look forward with interest to the continuance of this bold undertaking, and hope to see it brought to a successful conclusion."—The Church Times.

Reuss on the Canon.

HISTORY OF THE CANON OF THE HOLY SCRIPTURES in the Christian Church. By Edward Reuss, Professor in the University of Strasburg, Author of "History of Christian Theology in the Apostolic Age," translated from the Second French Edition, with the Author's own corrections and revision, by DAVID HUNTER, B.D. 416 pp. 8vo. 6s. 9d. (9s.) [6]

"I am much pleased to see 'Reuss' in English. It is a book I highly value, and make frequent reference to it in my class lectures."—PROF. A. B. BRUCE, D.D., Free Church College, Glasgow.

"The book is a most valuable and useful one."—PROF. WM. MILLIGAN, D.D., University, Aberdeen.

"I have long known the book, and have found it very stimulating. . . . I recommended the work to-day in my class; recommended it strongly, and I hope it will succeed."—PROF. A. H. CHARTERIS, D.D., University, Edinburgh.

Ritchie on Creation.

THE CREATION: the Earth's Formation on Dynamical Principles, in accordance with the Mosaic Record, and the latest Scientific Discoveries. By Archibald Tucker Ritchie. FIFTH EDITION, revised. 680 pp. 8vo. 3s. 6d. (18s.) [6]

"The object of this treatise is to prove 'that the earth did not always rotate diurnally around its axis,' and after perusing it we scarcely need the author's assurance that it is the result of the patient study of the principles of the cosmographical system during many years of his life. Feeling sure that it would be no easy matter to convince his readers of the soundness of the conclusions to which he invites their attention, Mr. Ritchie has devoted to the task the best energies of a highly cultivated mind, and while acknowledging the full value of the services of those who have gone before him, he yet claims to bring the matter before the world in an entirely new light. He assumes, as a starting point, the truth of the Bible as a revelation from God, and describes the first chapter of Genesis as 'Nature's Constitutional Code,' affording us all that is necessary for a 'perfect comprehension of the works of creation.' From this high starting-point he enters on the arduous task of proving the soundness of the conclusion which his laborious investigations have led him to adopt."—The Christian Observer.

Arthur Roberts's Sermons.

SIXTY-FOUR PLAIN SERMONS for all the Sundays and Chief Holy Days of the Year, preached to a Village Congregation. By Rev. Arthur Roberts, M.A., Rector of Woodrising, Norfolk. THIRD SERIES. Two vols. post 8vo. 5s. (10s.) [6]

THIRTY-ONE PLAIN SERMONS on the Gospel Miracles, preached to a Village Congregation. By Rev. Arthur Roberts. Post 8vo. 2s. 6d. (5s.) [3]

"These are suitable for very humble auditories, such as small country parishes, cottage lectures, workhouses, &c. They were composed for the author's own congregation, which is that of a very small village in Norfolk. I do not doubt they have done good service: it is no discredit to them to say they are Evangelical of the best type. Mr. Roberts has that happy knack or gift of putting a sermon together which may be improved by, but which is not born of labour and cultivation."—The Guardian (article "Successful Preachers").

Robertson on Philippians.

EIGHTEEN LECTURES, Practical and Expository, upon St. Paul's Epistle to the Philippians. By Rev. J. S. S. Robertson, Missionary in Bombay in connection with the Church Missionary Society. Crown 8vo. binding somewhat shabby, 1s. 6d. (3s. 6d.) [3]

Simms on the Psalms.

A SPIRITUAL COMMENTARY ON THE BOOK OF PSALMS, specially setting forth their Messianic Interpretation. By Rev. Edward Simms, M.A., late Vicar of Escot, Devon. 596 pp. 8vo. 3s. (12s. 6d.) [6]

"The language is simple and lucid: the comments judiciously brief; the tone eminently spiritual, and likely to be very edifying to the class of readers who will come in the way of it. I can see what pains have been taken with it; and how the writer's one aim has been to glorify God."—BR. THOROLD.

The Dean of Canterbury pronounces it to be "a valuable work."
"This work is evidently the result of deep and patient study of this portion of the Word of God, and is richly illustrated by quotations from the rest of Holy Scripture, so that it can scarcely fail to be of great practical interest and value to Christian students and teachers. To all whose office it is to explain the text, and apply spiritually the meaning of the Psalter, whether in schools or elsewhere, its brief Scriptural expositions furnish a very valuable aid."

The Exeter and Plymouth Gazette.

C. J. Smith's Dictionary of Synonyms.

SYNONYMS DISCRIMINATED: A Complete Catalogue of Synonymous Words in the English Language, with Descriptions of their Various Shades of Meaning and Illustrations of their Usages and Specialities; illustrated by quotations from Standard Writers. By Rev. C. J. Smith, M.A., Vicar of Erith and late Archdeacon of Jamaica. 616 pp. 8vo.
7s. (16s.) [6]

"This is decidedly a meritorious book. Mr. Smith is a very fair etymologist, has a competent knowledge of English writers, has taken infinite pains to make his list complete, and is possessed of much power of discrimination."

"Mr. Smith's task, in the present work, has been a laborious one; and his execution of it is, in the main, thoroughly satisfactory. Of course, many objections might be taken to some of his distinctions; but on the whole he has given us a very useful and valuable book."—The Educational Times.

George Smith on Ancient Chronology.

THE ASSYRIAN EPONYM CANON; containing translations of the Documents, and an account of the Evidence, on the comparative Chronology of the Assyrian and Jewish Kingdoms, from the death of Solomon to Nebuchadnezzar. By George Smith, of the Department of Oriental Antiquities, British Museum, Author of "History of Assurbanipal," "Assyrian Discoveries," &c., &c. 8vo. 1s. 6d. (9s.) Bagster. [3]

Selections from John Smith's Discourses.

THE NATURAL TRUTH OF CHRISTIANITY: selections from the "Select Discourses" of Rev. John Smith, M.A., with an Introduction by MATTHEW ARNOLD. Edited by W. M. METCALFE. Post 8vo. beautifully printed, 2s. 6d. (5s.) [5]

"These selections will be hailed by those who have not had the opportunity of reading the 'Select Discourses' in full. The spiritual elevation of the writer, his deep reverence, and the grace of his gentle sympathy, win even the hard and sceptical to at least an attentive consideration of his words. The editor and publisher have conferred a great boon in bringing within the reach of preachers and ordinary readers such a treasury of spiritual wisdom."

The Preacher's Monthly.

Newman Smyth's Sermons.

THE REALITY OF FAITH. By Newman Smyth, D.D., Author of "Old Faiths in New Light," "The Religious Feeling," "Orthodox Theology of To-day," &c., &c. Author's Copyright Edition, crown 8vo. 3s. 6d. (4s. 6d.) [5]

"We have read the sermon on 'The Reality of Faith' with much pleasure, and once more we have come to the conclusion that, for fresh thoughts and words, the preacher should often go to America."—The Ecclesiastical Gazette.

"Readers of that remarkable book, 'Old Faiths in New Light,' will anticipate a treat in this volume, and we assure them they will not be disappointed. It consists of sermons taken from those which the author has had occasion to preach during the last two years. The title adequately expresses their character. They are fresh and beautiful expositions of those things, those foundation truths, which underlie Christian faith and spiritual life, in all their varied manifestations. Dr. Smyth makes no attempt to construct any complete system of Divinity, or even to formulate anew a single doctrine of grace. 'Our thought,' he says, 'is never more than a cupful of God's truth.' He believes that we have in the Word made flesh a real revelation from the real God, to the real life of the world; and he endeavours to present some portions of that revelation in the nearest approach to scientific thought that he is capable of. We thank the publisher for bringing out these singularly suggestive and instructive discourses, in so good a form, and at so reasonable a price."—The Christian Age.

Sparrow's Sermons.

TWENTY-FIVE SERMONS. By Rev. William Sparrow, D.D., late Professor of Systematic Divinity and the Evidences of Christianity in the Theological Seminary of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Virginia. 350 pp. royal 8vo. 4s. net. [6]

Bishop Sumner's Life.

THE LIFE OF CHARLES RICHARD SUMNER, D.D., Bishop of Winchester, and Prelate of the Most Noble Order of the Garter, during a Forty Years' Episcopate. By Rev. G. H. Sumner, M.A., Hon. Canon of Winchester. Fine Portrait. 8vo. 6s. 6d. (14s.) [6]

"It is not a book that will be read for edification, but may conveniently serve to refresh the minds of many with some information as to the progress of ecclesiastical events during the present century. It will be seen that with many drawbacks, and notwithstanding extravagancies of a most perilous character, there still has been improvement, and that upon the whole the Church of England is better prepared to meet the storms and trials to which she may be exposed than she was half a century ago. There is now life, there is activity, there is a sense of responsibility and care for souls now which was sorely lacking then, except in some few instances, among whom Charles Richard Sumner was a bright and shining light."—The Christian Observer.

Symington on the Apostles.

THE APOSTLES OF OUR LORD: Practical Studies. By Rev. A. M. Symington, B.A. Crown 8vo. 2s. 3d. (3s. 6d.) [3]

"A thoughtful, suggestive work, in which the doings of the Apostles are made the subject of some valuable comments applicable to the Christian's everyday life."—The Rock.

"Thoroughly practical and readable throughout. A work that should be in the hands of every Christian reader. We have learned from its pages more as to the general history and personal characteristics of the different Apostles than in any book on the subject we have yet seen."—Word and Work.

Two Books by Dr. W. M. Taylor.

ELIJAH THE PROPHET. By W. M. Taylor, D.D., Minister of the Broadway Tabernacle, New York City, Author of "Contrary Winds, and other Sermons," &c. &c. 256 pp. 12mo. 1s. (2s. 6d.) [3]

"For this style of sermonising, as for some others, Dr. Taylor has very rare gifts; and ministers, Sabbath-school teachers, and all Christians who would know the Bible's hidden wealth, and how to use it, will do well to study these rich and enriching volumes."—The Congregationalist, Boston, U.S.A.

"His delineation of the character and history of the grand old Hebrew prophet is intensely graphic and lifelike, while in his adaptation of the history to practical uses he manifests an originality and fervour of thought which enable him to evolve the most weighty and spiritual lessons."—The Evangelist, N.Y.

DAVID, KING OF ISRAEL: his Life and its Lessons. By W. M. Taylor, D.D. Crown 8vo. 3s. (5s.) [6]

Thirty Thousand Thoughts.

THIRTY THOUSAND THOUGHTS, being Extracts covering a comprehensive circle of Religious and allied topics, gathered from the best available sources, of all ages and all schools of thought; with suggestive and seminal headings, and homiletical and illuminative framework, the whole arranged upon a scientific basis. With classified and thought-multiplying Lists, Comparative Tables, and elaborate Indices, Alphabetical, Topical, Textual and Scriptural. Edited by the Revs. Canon H. D. M. SPENCE, M.A., JOSEPH S. EXELL, M.A., and CHARLES NEIL, M.A. To be completed in about Six Volumes. Royal 8vo. beautifully printed on fine paper, each, 12s. 6d. (16s.) [each 9]

CHARLES HIGHAM, having made early and special arrangements with the proprietors has still a few copies, which he is able to offer at the rate of Half-a-Guinea per volume net cash to Subscribers for the complete set, payable as each volume appears.

The First Volume (544 pp.) now ready, contains the following Sections of the Work, viz.: I. CHRISTIAN EVIDENCES—II. THE HOLY SPIRIT—III. THE BEATITUDES—IV. THE LORD'S PRAYER—V. MAN AND HIS TRAITS OF CHARACTER. With Introduction by the Very Rev. J. S. HOWSON, D.D., Dean of Chester.

The Second Volume (510 pp.) also ready, contains Sections: VI. MAN'S NATURE AND CONSTITUTION—VII. THE LAWS BY WHICH MAN IS CONDITIONED—VIII. THE EPISTLES TO THE SEVEN CHURCHES OF ASIA—IX. THE SEVEN SAYINGS ON THE CROSS—X. VIRTUES, INCLUDING EXCELLENCES (First Part).

The Third Volume (528 pp.) just published, contains Sections: X. VIRTUES, INCLUDING EXCELLENCES (Second, Third, Fourth, and Fifth Parts)—XI. THE MOSAIC ECONOMY, with Sectional Indices.

The Fourth Volume, which will appear early in 1885, will, in all probability, contain the following Sections, viz.: JEHOVISTIC TITLES; DIVINE ATTRIBUTES; SINS; DUTIES AND GRACES.

"The present volume is put forward as a specimen of the method and manner after which these volumes will be constructed; and if at all equal to this introductory one, they cannot but prove an inestimable addition to any clerical library to which they may find admission."—The Ecclesiastical Gazette.

"... its advantages are so manifestly great that it is much to be desired that it should meet with such success as to warrant its completion in the specified time. As a guide to what to read, as suggestive of thought, and as affording valuable data on subjects of the highest importance, it will prove a valuable addition to the theological library, and hence also an equally valuable help in the direction of homiletics."—The Church Times.

Four Books by Dr. Thomas.

PROBLEMATA MUNDI: THE BOOK OF JOB Exegetically and Practically Considered, containing 91 Homiletic Sketches. By David Thomas, D.D., critically revised, with Introduction, by SAMUEL DAVIDSON, D.D., LL.D., Author of "Introduction to the Old Testament," "The Canon of the Bible," &c. 514 pp. 8vo. 6s. 6d. (10s. 6d.) [6]

"Dr. Thomas has here put his power of generalisation to its full strain. The work is most striking and suggestive."—The Evangelical Magazine.

"This will be welcome to very many who desire to see the ideas of the Book of Job vigorously presented and illustrated. It is full of fine thoughts graphically and powerfully expressed."

The British and Foreign Evangelical Review.

"Dr Thomas has a genius for writing books of suggestive thoughts. This book is earnestly commended to all thoughtful readers for freshness, independent thought, and happy ingenuity."—The Freeman.

THE BOOK OF PSALMS Exegetically and Practically Considered. By David Thomas, D.D. 3 vols. 8vo. 15s. (£1. 11s. 6d.) [12]

"It is many years since we first found in the 'HOMILIST' of Dr. Thomas inspiring and instructive suggestions for the ministry of the Word. We do not perceive in this new attempt to help his brethren any trace that his natural force is abated. He pursues his way through the valleys and over the heights of spiritual experience found in the marvellous Hebrew Psalms, ever ready to fix his eye on the chief objects and to show how their environment acts as a foil to display their purport. . . . The work as a whole is eminently satisfactory. A work giving helpful impulses to thought and to presentation of thoughts in preaching. The material for exegetical notes has been drawn from various and esteemed commentators, and occasionally contains the summary of long critical discussions."

The Theological Quarterly.

THE PRACTICAL PHILOSOPHER: a Daily Monitor for the Business Men of England; brief and suggestive Moral Readings on the Book of Proverbs for every day in the year. By David Thomas, D.D. FOURTH EDITION. 834 pp. 8vo. 6s. 6d. (10s. 6d.) [6]

"We have read various other works on the Book of Proverbs, but they are not to be compared in power and stimulus to the work before us. The thought is philosophic, and the spirit living."—The Welsh Quarterly.

"It is full of fine thoughts graphically and powerfully expressed."—The British and Foreign Evangelical Review.

"On every page sparkle gems both as regards thought and expression. In the author the understanding and the imagination are a splendid power of faculties."—The Evangelical Repository.

A BIBLICAL LITURGY, for the use of Churches, Schools, Homes, and Hospitals, containing TWENTY-FOUR SCRIPTURE SERVICES, including Marriage, Baptism, Visitation of the Sick, and Burial suitable to the New Act. Also the Morning and Evening Services of the Episcopal Church arranged for all Free Churches. It contains also Twenty-nine Original Hymns and Twenty-six Pieces of Music for Chanting. Compiled by Rev. David Thomas, D.D.; musically arranged by Rev. S. MARCH, M.A., Incumbent of Christ Church, Sydenham. TWELFTH EDITION, improved and enlarged. Todd's Index Rerum.

INDEX RERUM: A READY REFERENCE REGISTER. By John Todd, D.D., Author of "The Student's Manual." Revised, improved, and enlarged by Rev. C. NEIL, M.A., Author of "The Expositor's Commentary on the Epistle to the Romans." Large post 4to. 7s. (9s.) [6]

"This is one of the many useful arrangements, after the pattern of the famous Locke, for registering one's work and one's studies. We must give it the credit of being useful without being too complex or ingenious for common use."—The Literary Churchman.

"It is a handsome volume, well bound, with alphabets for ready reference, on good paper, pleasant to write upon, which, well used, would preserve a record of studies, books read, and where to obtain them again when needed. It would save many weary hours of search in after-life if the young student could be induced to write his daily line in such a volume. It ought to find a place on every reading man's table."—The Preacher's Monthly.

James Vaughan's Sermons.

SERMONS PREACHED IN CHRIST CHURCH, BRIGHTON. By Rev. James Vaughan, M.A. Incumbent, and Prebendary of Chichester. Reported for "The Brighton Pulpit." "Simple sermons on the duties of practical religion, conveyed in terse and simple language. They are excellent reading, and remarkable for a systematic cohesion of thought."—The Rock.

"There is not a town in England in which such discourses, delivered with freedom and vigour, would not attract great congregations. They are very good illustrations of the kind of sermons delivered by effective and earnest evangelical clergymen; and Nonconformist ministers, among whom there is a disposition to be too 'bookish' in their preaching, might learn something from them."—The Congregationalist.

Vaughan on the Mystics.

HOURS WITH THE MYSTICS: A Contribution to the History of Religious Opinion. By Robert Alfred Vaughan, M.A. FOURTH EDITION, 2 vols. crown 8vo. 12s. 6d. (£1. 4s.) [9]

"There is not a page nor a paragraph in which there is not something worth recollecting, and often reflection; very wise and weighty indeed, which show that whether or not Mr. Vaughan has thoroughly grasped the subject of mysticism, he has grasped and made part of his own mind and heart many things far more practically important than mysticism, or any other form of thought; and no one ought to rise up from the perusal of his book without finding himself, if not a better, at least a more thoughtful man; and perhaps a humbler one also, as he learns how many more struggles and doubts, discoveries, sorrows and joys, the human race has passed through, than are contained in his own private experience. The true value of the book is, that though not exhaustive of the subject, it is suggestive. It affords the best, indeed the only general sketch of the subject which we have in England, and gives therein boundless food for future thought and reading; and the country parson, or the thoughtful professional man, who has no time to follow out the question for himself, much less to hunt out and examine original documents, may learn from these pages a thousand curious and interesting hints about men of like passions with himself, and about old times, the history of which—as of all times—was not the history of their kings and queens, but of the creeds and doubts of the 'masses' who worked, and failed, and sorrowed, and rejoiced again, unknown to fame. Whatsoever, meanwhile, their own conclusions may be on the subject-matter of the book, they will hardly fail to admire the extraordinary variety and fulness of Mr. Vaughan's reading, and wonder when they hear—unless we are wrongly informed—that he is quite a young man, 'how one small head could compass all he knew.'"—Rev. CHARLES KINGSLEY, in Fraser's Magazine, Sept., 1856, afterwards reprinted in his 'Miscellanies.'

Wright, formerly Secretary of the Church Missionary Society. With an Introductory Biographical Chapter and a Notice of West African Commerce, by his sons, Revs. JOHN VENN, M.A., and HENRY VENN, M.A. Autotype Portrait from the engraving by S. COUSINS, after the original painting by G. RICHMOND, R.A. 564 pp. 8vo. 3s. (18s.) [6]

"It can hardly be said that the one handsome octavo volume which is now put forth as a memorial of the late excellent Secretary of the Church Missionary Society, is out of proportion to the requirements of the case, when we consider the contents and the objects of the publication. This volume is not a biography of Mr. Venn merely. Indeed, hardly a third of the whole book is dedicated to that which is personal to him and his history. The biographical chapter, which is the work of his sons, is excellent in all respects, telling just enough to make us know the man, whom to know was undoubtedly to respect and love. . . . All that is necessary to know of him, of his character, of his life and works, is well told in this volume."—Church Bells.

"So important a work, from the point of view of the Church Missionary Society, as the memoir of its revered Honorary Secretary, Henry Venn, calls for further notice at our hands than can be given in these few lines. We hope shortly to present a review from the pen of one of Mr. Venn's old friends and fellow-workers. In the meanwhile we lose no time in commending the volume to the attention of all our readers; and this can best be done by describing its contents, which will be their own recommendation. . . . If the biographers have done themselves less than justice, they have at all events let Henry Venn speak for himself. And considering the applicability to questions of present interest of most of these legacies of his powerful mind and loving spirit, we may truly say that he, being dead, yet speaketh."—The Church Missionary Intelligencer.

Washburn on the Commandments.

THE SOCIAL LAW OF GOD : Sermons on the Ten Commandments. By Rev. E. A. Washburn, D.D., late Rector of Calvary Church, New York. FIFTH EDITION, with a Sketch of his Life and Work. Crown 8vo, 2s. 9d. (3s. 6d.) [5]

"This volume contains sermons on the Ten Commandments, of which those on the 'Law of the Household,' 'Social Purity,' and 'Social Honesty,' strike us as admirable in their handling their subjects from the practical Nineteenth Century point of view, and we wish that at home our preachers would oftener drive wholesome truths like those into their people's ears."—The Church Quarterly Review.

Weitbrecht's Sermons.

SERMONS. By the late Rev. John James Weitbrecht, Missionary of the C. M. S. at Burdwan. Crown 8vo. 1s. 6d. (5s.) [5]

"There is a freshness and simplicity, as well as a certain kind of originality about the style, and a heavenly unction diffused through the matter of these unpretending discourses, which have been thought and felt by many to give them a peculiar charm, and which probably led to the repeated expression of a wish, from time to time from numerous individuals, that a volume of them might appear in print."—PREFACE.

Whedon's Commentary.

A POPULAR COMMENTARY ON THE NEW TESTAMENT. By D. D. Whedon, D.D., of the American Episcopal Methodist Church. Maps and Woodcuts. 5 vols. crown 8vo. 15s. (£1. 5s.) [12]

"The topographical, historical, and explanatory notes, as well as a number of illustrative woodcuts which it contains, will be found useful in helping the reader to a right understanding of the text. These seem to have been prepared with great care and accuracy."—The Scotsman.

"It is distinguished by great fulness, accuracy, and breadth. The spirit and teaching of the sacred text are clearly and beautifully presented, and all difficulties are fairly met and explained. Dr. Whedon evidently possesses all the qualifications of an able and enlightened commentator."—The Preacher's Lantern.

"Have no hesitation in recommending the work as a worthy competitor for public favour with Barnes's 'Notes,' and alike suitable and useful to the Bible student and Sabbath School teacher."—The Weekly Review.

Whewell's Life.

THE LIFE, AND SELECTIONS FROM THE CORRESPONDENCE, OF William Whewell, D.D., late Master of Trinity College, Cambridge. By Mrs. STAIR DOUGLAS. With Portrait after a painting by SAMUEL LAURENCE. Thick 8vo. 6s. (21s.) [6]

Whitehead on the Sunday Lessons.

SERMONS—CHIEFLY FROM THE SUNDAY LESSONS. By Henry Whitehead, M.A., Vicar of Brampton, Cumberland, Author of "Sermons on the Saints' Days." Crown 8vo. 2s. (6s.) [5]

CRITICAL NOTICES OF THE FORMER VOLUME:

"Well adapted to suggest matter for serious meditation to an educated congregation."—The Guardian.
 "There are everywhere in these pages traces of the working of an uncommon mind in the mode of dealing with common topics."—The Christian Spectator.

Winkworth's German Hymnology.

CHRISTIAN SINGERS OF GERMANY. By Catherine Winkworth. Six Portraits. Crown 8vo. 2s. (4s.) Macmillan's Sunday Library. [5]

CONTENTS: The Early Dawn of German Sacred Poetry and Song—A Long Twilight—The Morning—Dark Times and Bright Times—Luther and his Friends—Hymns of the Reformation—An Interval—The Thirty Years' War—Paul Gerhardt and his Contemporaries—The New School—The Pietists—The Mystics and Separatists—Modern Times.

Winterbotham's Sermons.

SERMONS AND EXPOSITIONS. By Rev. Rayner Winterbotham, M.A., B.Sc., Rector of St. Peter's, Fraserburgh, one of the writers in "The Pulpit Commentary." Post 8vo. 2s. 6d. (7s. 6d.) [6]

"The tone of these sermons is earnest; often impassioned, and occasionally rising to the height of fervid eloquence."—The Evening Standard.

"The sermons are replete with evidence of thoughtful preparation, and are far above the average of pulpit efforts."—John Bull.

"These sermons are the work of a man who thinks for himself—and who says out what he thinks, which is still rarer: he is evidently interested in all the great questions of the day, especially in their bearing upon the Catholic Faith; he by no means coincides in all instances with the verdicts of commentators, or the conventional mode of overcoming a difficulty—he forms his own conclusions, and then he fills his sermon with it."—The Literary Churchman.

Young's New Testament Evidences.

INDIRECT EVIDENCES IN THE NEW TESTAMENT FOR THE PERSONAL DIVINITY OF CHRIST, with Appendices. I.—The Person and Work of Christ. II.—The Philosophy of the Incarnation. III.—Our Lord's Personal Appearance, Tones of Voice, &c. IV.—The Spirit in which Christ's Religion claims to be approached. By Rev. F. Rowland Young, D.D. Crown 8vo. 2s. (2s. 6d.) [2]

"Dr. Young not only proves his point and slays his opponent, but he reduces the opposite theory to an absurdity, and so cuts his adversary in pieces. He has done his work well. A quotation from Dr. Bellows, given as an appendix, warms our heart to the book."—The Sword and Trowel.

"A valuable contribution to the discussion of the doctrine of Christ's Divinity. These 'Indirect Evidences' are all urged with ingenuity, and some of them with special force and pertinence."—The Lay Preacher.

"Dr. Young's spirit in this treatise is devout and earnest. It is also pervaded by a breadth of charity, in its true and higher form, seldom met with. We are pleased to meet with such a modest, and, at the same time, strong and earnest testimonial to the supreme divinity of the Lord."—The New Jerusalem Messenger. [U.S.]
